300 Unemployed Stage Riot In New York State Capitol

CLASH WITH POLICE FOR 45 MINUTES

Group Marches Into Gallery of Assembly and Many Persons Injured
TROOPERS USE CLUBS
Most of Marchers Said to Have Come From New York City As Protest

ALBANY, N. Y., March 3.—(UP)—Three hundred unemployed, who marched into the state capitol to demand relief, rioted and clashed for 45 minutes today with state troopers before they finally were forced from the assembly.

There were a number of casualties, though none appeared severe. Captain John Kiely, commander of the state trooper force guarding the assembly, was clawed and beaten and was saved from falling from the gallery into the assembly hall by a trooper who came to his aid.

William Bell, a senate page, was knocked unconscious and had to be treated in an emergency hospital after he had gone to the aid of Trooper "Spike" Sullivan, who was being pummeled by the demonstrators.

Other state troopers were clawed and scratched when they went into the galleries to quiet the crowd shouting, jeering and booing state officers.

The three hundred unemployed composed groups who had marched into Albany, mostly from New York City, to present to the legislature a program which included:

- Unemployment insurance.
- State wages for jobless.
- General unemployment relief.

They marched to the capitol this forenoon and filled the east and west galleries and one small group—17 men and three women—went to the main floor and were separated from the legislators only by a railing.

Just as the clerk started reading the journal, Jack Johnstone of New York City started shouting for relief. He was joined by 20 others.

State troopers tried unsuccessfully to quiet them but the unemployed clung to the railing, shouting hysterically. They finally were pulled away and forced from the room.

BOURBON MEET THURSDAY TO FORCE ISSUES

Opposition Grows Against Committee Taking Stand on Dry Question

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(UP)—A rapidly growing volume of protest against the Democratic national committee attempting to commit the party on the prohibition issue has increased the complications to be met Thursday at the committee meeting called by John J. Raskob, national chairman.

Southern Democrats who have opposed what they feared was a plan by Raskob to obtain an anti-prohibition commitment claimed today to have reason to believe Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, a leading potential presidential candidate, was in sympathy with their opposition to any party commitment on a national policy at this time. This position is understood by some southern Democrats to reflect the view of Governor Roosevelt. The situation recalled current but unconfirmed reports that the Raskob group favors Owen D. Young as New York's presidential candidate next year. It was thought by some to foreshadow an effort looking to a linking of fortunes between Roosevelt and southern leaders.

This newest Democratic development came only a few hours after a bi-partisan independent group in the senate had revealed plans for a meeting here March 11-12 to discuss a legislative program for the next congress.

The group served notice on both major parties that fundamental economic issues would be stressed in the 1932 presidential campaign, but at the same time disclaimed any intention to form a new party.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, has dispatched invitations to liberals of all parties to attend the conferences. Problems listed in the invitation include unemployment, public utilities, agriculture, tariff and return to representative government.

WHITEMAN GRANTED DIVORCE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 3.—(UP)—The third marital venture of Paul Whiteman, orchestra leader, ended yesterday when he obtained a divorce from Mrs. Mildred Whiteman, a dancer, who is known on the stage as Wanda Hoff.

Whiteman told Superior Judge John J. Sullivan that he was married seven years ago, and that Mrs. Whiteman left him in September of 1929. He said she was "wonderful" but that with both of them "on the road," married life was impossible.

A property settlement allowed Mrs. Whiteman $600 a week alimony and three insurance policies. Whiteman was granted custody of their son, Paul Jr., three months of each year.

GOVERNOR ROLPH IN L. A. WEDNESDAY

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—(UP)—Governor James Rolph went to San Francisco by airplane today to cast his vote in the special state senatorial election there.

He is expected to return here late today and tomorrow will leave for Los Angeles, where he will lay the cornerstone for the new state building Thursday afternoon.

After attending a luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and the annual banquet of the California Gas and Oil association, the governor will return to Sacramento by plane.

FLAGS AT HALFMAST
BALBOA, C. Z., March 3.—(UP)—Flags were at halfmast in the Canal Zone today and batteries fired a salute every half hour as a joint tribute to Major General Edgar Jadwin, retired chief of United States Army engineers and Major General Leroy Irwin, who died yesterday.

The bodies of both men were to be taken to New York aboard the Army transport Saint Mihel, leaving Cristobal at noon.

Rattlesnake Attacks Dinuba Boy

DINUBA, March 3.—(UP)—First rattlesnake victim of the season in this district was Walter Williams, 15, in a hospital here under treatment for the poison.

Young Williams was picnicking with his parents and others northeast of here Sunday, and he and another boy started hiking. They stepped into a den of rattlesnakes and one struck young Williams before the boys could escape.

Williams' leg was reported swollen, but he was regarded as in no danger.

BRIAND LAUDS NAVAL ACCORD WITH BRITAIN

PARIS, March 3.—(UP)—The naval accord reached last week at Paris and Rome was "merely the prelude to the rapid ending of all Franco-Italian problems," Foreign Minister Aristide Briand said today in debating the foreign affairs budget in the chamber of deputies.

Briand described the accord as another move toward world disarmament.

Publication of the terms of the naval accord reached between France, Italy and Great Britain will be delayed until Thursday or Friday, it was stated unofficially today, because of the time necessary for the consideration of the agreement by the governments of the United States and Japan.

Changes in the terms of the Washington and London naval treaties will be necessitated by the new tri-part agreement, it is believed generally, although there has been but one official reference to this possibility. Minister of Marine Charles Dumont said that the accord entails "slight modification of the London treaty."

The limitation of battleships to a maximum of 25,000 tons, understood to be one of the stipulations of the agreement may for some difficulty in obtaining the approval of the United States and Japan. While some quarters saw this as a possible delay to an agreement bringing France and Italy within the program of naval limitation to which they declined to commit themselves at the London conference, the French press suggested that the limitation of battleships was the most interesting and important part of the Anglo-French-Italian negotiations.

GANDHI INSISTS ON RETURN OF PROPERTY

NEW DELHI, India, March 3.—(UP)—A truce in the Indian civil disobedience movement apparently was at hand tonight with only one outstanding question to be settled.

The unsettled question, which was the subject of consultations which the Mahatma Gandhi continued to conduct, concerned return of confiscated property of volunteers in the independence movement and reinstatement of dismissed government servants.

Rumanian Prince Leaves Sunday On Long Plane Trip

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—(UP)—Some time before next Sunday, a huge monoplane will soar out of the skies bound for New York, Bremen, Bucharest and Capetown, South Africa, with Prince Jean Ghica, Rumanian minister of air, at the controls.

Prince Ghica, a cousin of King Carol, was testing his new plane here today, and expressed the hope he would soon take to his native country the world's longest distance mark now held by Dieudonne Costes and Maurice Belzonte.

ORANGE COUNTY PIONEER DIES IN AUTO WRECK

John H. McCarty of San Juan Capistrano Killed In Accident Monday

SERVICES WILL BE held at the Smith and Tutthill funeral chapel at 10 a. m. tomorrow for John H. McCarty, 74, who for 35 years was agent for the Santa Fe railroad at San Juan Capistrano, and who was killed in an automobile accident yesterday about 100 miles from San Bernardino on his way to Barstow.

An inquest was scheduled for this afternoon at San Bernardino. Mr. McCarty's daughter, Mrs. Fay Cook, of San Juan Capistrano, was in San Bernardino today, having gone there following the receipt of a telegram announcing Mr. McCarty's death. Details of the tragedy were not contained in the telegram, except that the car in which Mr. McCarty was riding turned over in passing another machine.

Mr. McCarty had been visiting in Beverly Hills when he started the trip to Barstow, with his son-in-law, Charles Swanson, of Los Angeles, in a car with Mrs. Marie Whaley and her daughter, Marie. About one and one half years ago he retired from active duty as Santa Fe agent at San Juan Capistrano.

In addition to his daughter, Mrs. Cook, he is survived by Mrs. Charles Swanson, daughter, of Los Angeles; E. E. McCarty, a son, of Winslow, Ariz.; and Dale McCarty, a son, of Los Angeles.

COUNTERFEITER IS GIVEN PRISON TERM

PORTLAND, Ore., March 3.—(UP)—Knowledge of chemistry, which Joseph A. Falkner, 28, used to manufacture counterfeit currency that he might travel in style and support his widowed mother and an ill brother, today had resulted in his sentence to four years in McNeil island penitentiary.

Falkner pleaded guilty to six counts contained in an indictment brought by a federal grand jury.

Falkner told authorities he became vitally interested in chemistry while in high school in a small town in Wisconsin and that he later invented a method of transferring characters of paper money onto blank pieces of paper.

22 HURT WHEN BOMB WRECKS BUILDINGS

PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—(UP)—The possibility that a bomb was responsible for an explosion which injured 22 persons and forced 100 more to the street was investigated by police today.

The blast, which occurred shortly before midnight, wrecked six apartments, a section of the Seville hotel, and broke windows within a radius of 10 blocks.

Twenty-two persons in the six buildings were injured by falling plaster.

"Boots" Has a New Wardrobe

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 3.—(UP)—The razor that nicked the chin of Gov. W. H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray will take its place alongside the battle scarred execution tree of the Seminole in the Oklahoma Historical society building.

C. H. Riggs, who was state capital barber before he nicked the governor's chin, will present the razor to the society today, he said.

OVER $600,000 CASH SPENT IN PENNSYLVANIA

Campaign Funds Committee Deplores Expenditure in Its Report

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(UP)—Four members of the campaign funds investigating committee reported to the senate today that expenditures of $622,000 on behalf of the Brown-Davis Republican ticket in the 1930 Pennsylvania primary election was "excessive and inimical to the public interest."

"Such a condition," the report continued, "can not be permitted to continue unchallenged without the most serious consequences to the nation."

The aggregate of expenditures for the Brown-Davis primary slate and for the Republican ticket in the general election was reported by the committee as $1,117,549.

"Your committee," the report said, "is impressed by the total of these expenditures even when due regard is given to the area and population of Pennsylvania."

Chairman Nye and Senators Dale, Republican, Vermont; Dill, Democrat, Washington; and Wagner, Democrat, New York, signed the report. A separate report was submitted by Senator Patterson, Republican, Missouri.

"There was no evidence before the committee," said Patterson, "of any corrupt practices or excessive expenditure that could properly be charged to Senator Davis, either in the primary or general election."

FIVE LOSE LIVES WHEN HOME BURNS

TRENTON, Pa., March 3.—(UP)—Five persons were burned to death today when fire trapped them in the second floor of their frame house in Rutherford, near here.

The dead: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daniels, about 45, and their children, Mary, Frank Jr., and Patrick Daniels, all under 10 years of age.

A fourth child, Julia, suffered a fractured leg when she leaped from a window to escape the flames. A fifth child, Lucy, had spent the night with a married sister living nearby.

The fire was caused by an overheated stove on the first floor, according to firemen.

2 Hurt As Mail Plane Is Forced Down by Flames

PORTLAND, Ore., March 3.—(UP)—Two passengers were slightly injured and a small quantity of mail was burned when a P. A. T. mail plane caught fire 20 miles east of Roseburg at 11:15 p. m. Monday and forced Pilot Grover Tyler to land in rough country.

Herbert D. Smith, Seattle, was shaken and bruised. P. E. Hansen, of Seattle, was bruised and slightly burned. The third passenger, C. L. Hansen, of Boston, was not hurt, nor was Tyler.

Tyler was forced to land when he saw smoke coming from the mail compartment. A rancher named Eckert heard the plane land and took the passengers to Roseburg.

Conscious For Awhile Last Night

Fractured Skull Sustained When Thrown From His Cycle Is Fatal

SANTA ANA today mourned the death of Ed R. Jensen, city traffic officer who died at 11:15 this morning from injuries sustained when his motorcycle skidded and crashed into a lamp post on East First street just east of the railroad tracks.

Jensen was hurt at 7:15 Saturday night while he was chasing a speeder on East First street. His motor struck a "slow button" in the street and caused him to lose control of his car. He skidded a distance of 50 feet on pavement and his head crashed into a lamp post, fracturing his skull from ear to ear.

He was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital by Wilbur Getty, of 325 South Parton street and Mrs. B. B. Barton of 602 North Howard street, Fullerton, who were on the scene at the time of the accident.

Jensen never regained consciousness after the accident. Some hope was held out for him by attending doctors until last night when he began to sink lower and lower, finally passing away this morning.

On January 7, 1930, Jensen began his work with the city police department and has been very popular with the officers he has worked with during his career as an officer of the law. At the time of his death he was living with his mother at 208 East Ninth street.

Funeral services will be announced later by Winbblers Funeral home, who will be in charge of the services.

DRIVER HELD AFTER CAR KILLS INFANT

FRESNO, March 3.—(UP)—G. D. Mallock, 39, employee of a paving company here, today appeared certain to face manslaughter charges following an automobile accident on Golden State highway near Malaga last night in which a child was killed and four persons injured.

Mallock admitted, officers said, traveling at so high a speed that when he came up behind the automobile of Joe Contreras, that he was unable to pass on the left. His attempt to pass on the right wrecked both cars and Esperanza Contreras, 18 months old, was killed. Four other members of the same family were hurt, Mallock was jailed.

NIGHT WATCHMAN KILLED IN FIGHT

CHICAGO, March 3.—(UP)—William Mayer, 60, a night watchman, died a hero today, from machine gun wounds received during a fight over an attempt to explode a shrapnel-laden dynamite bomb. His fearlessness harried the would-be bombers into spilling their own plans.

Mayer's slayer escaped after throwing a bystander into a basement with the lighted bomb. They disappeared before they learned that the fuse sputtered out before reaching the explosive.

PARALYSIS VIRUS DECLARED CHEMICAL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—(UP)—Science was a step nearer the conquest of infantile paralysis today as the result of a discovery by technicians at the Hooper foundation laboratories, University of California.

Experiments by Dr. Karl F. Meyer and Miss B. E. Howitt, indicate, they said, that the virus that causes the disease is chemical rather than living.

This, it was explained, would indicate that the disease is caused by poison, not a germ.

"As a corollary," Dr. Meyer said, "it would appear probable that the virus may be handled as a chemical, which would simplify study."

VETERANS' BUREAU LOANS $10,000,000

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(UP)—The veterans' bureau already has loaned $10,000,000 to needy veterans under the new bonus law, Brigadier General Frank T. Hines reported to President Hoover at the White House today.

The administrator of veterans affairs said $20,000,000 had been sent to the field offices in the first two days and that it was being paid out as rapidly as possible.

The local veterans' bureau is receiving 10,000 applications a day and expects a peak of 50,000 daily as soon as the night shift gets to work within the next few days, Hines said.

WILL ROGERS says:
BEVERLY HILLS, March 3.—[To the Editor of The Register:] Well, let's see what happened over what the English taught us to call the week-end. We copped all their expressions, week-end, fortnight, plus fours. We are now adopting the street buses that has been our source of amusement over there. We will cop their monacle yet if they don't watch us. Bernard Shaw had us right in the papers yesterday morning: "We do things well when somebody shows us how." But with all our monkey traits we are kicking along pretty good. Our Congress is going to adjourn this week, then watch things hum if we can only prevent another drought and disarmament conference.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

CONDITION OF GIRL AVIATOR STILL SERIOUS

MONTREY, Calif., March 3.—(UP)—Grappling with a fugitive memory, very ill from a bad accident of some kind, Edna Mae Cooper today feared only one thing—that her "unfortunate action" will not ruin her.

Aggravated by the apparent fact that her strange disappearance would be taken for a publicity stunt or an elaborate ruse to cover some awkward misadventure, the condition of the pretty blonde actress-aviatrix was still critical, according to Dr. Hugh Dornody, her physician.

She passed a restless night, Dr. Dornody said, unable to sleep because her mind kept up the

SOLDIER CONFESSES BOMB PLOT IN CUBA

HAVANA, March 3.—(UP)—Attempts of a plot against President Gerardo Machado were revealed today as investigation of responsibility for a bomb explosion in the presidential palace February 23 was resumed.

Sabino Valdes, the soldier who lowered a bomb into one of the palace bath rooms, said that he had been hired by Lieutenant Espinosa to place the bomb and was promised $4000 and promotion in the army.

He named Francisco Diaz as an accomplice and identified Diaz and dual Martin, municipal munitions employees, from a large crowd.

The plotters planned, in event the explosion failed, to assassinate President Machado and General Alberto Herrera on the steps of the palace, Valdes said.

ARGENTINA BOOSTS DUTIES ON MOVIES

BUENOS AIRES, March 3.—(UP)—Exhibition of foreign motion picture films in Argentina may be prohibited by new customs duties which are approximately 15 times higher than the former rates, distributors here told the United Press today.

The new duties became effective February 25 and have resulted in drastic reductions in orders from exhibitors. Distributors estimated that when the present supply of films is exhausted, at least 1000 small cinemas will be forced to close. Both distributors and theater owners are planning great reductions in the number of their employees.

American firms, supplying more than 90 per cent of the films seen in Argentina, will be hardest hit.

the local community and agriculture generally.

He urged the government to construct Cove Creek dam as a flood control measure for the Tennessee valley and to develop further water power resources but on the same basis employed in the Boulder dam project—namely construction to proceed when contracts for power sufficient to finance the project have been obtained.

"On this basis," Mr. Hoover said, "the federal government will have co-operated to place the question into the hands of the people primarily concerned."

Mr. Hoover thought the nitrate plants could be leased to the advantage of agriculture. The power plants, he said, are earning a margin over operating expenses which could be increased if operated by such a commission as he suggested without further capital outlay. He believed all profits should be used for the benefit of agriculture.

While giving a detailed analysis of the Norris compromise measure in his message, Mr. Hoover laid his heaviest blows on the principle of government ownership involved.

"This bill," he said, "raises one of the important issues confronting our people. That is squarely the issue of federal government ownership and operation of power and manufacturing business not as a minor by-product, but as a major purpose. Involved in this question is the agitation against the conduct of the power industry." Further, he said:

Ownership Policy

"This bill would launch the federal government upon a policy of ownership and operation of power utilities upon a basis of competition instead of by the proper government function of regulation for the protection of all the people."

At another point the president declared he was opposed to the government entering into any business the major purpose of which was competition with private business though recognizing exceptions when emergencies made cost a secondary consideration or when flood control, reclamation or similar projects were beyond the capacity of private or local government capital to construct.

"But for the federal government to go out and build up and expand such an occasion to the major purpose of a power and manufacturing business," he added, "is to break down the initiative and enterprise of the American people; it is destruction of equality or opportunity amongst our people; it is the negation of the ideals upon which our civilization has been based."

EVENING SCHOOL FEATURES TOLD

Some very interesting things are being made in the evening classes which meet in the machine shops, wood shop and printing shop, according to Mrs. Golden Weston, adult education director. "There is room for several more men in the machine shop where one may either participate in a class project at no individual expense or may buy his material and make some tool or piece of machinery for himself," she said. "Some of the men have material at home which they wish to work over and they bring it in and have Charles Brisco, instructor, help them remodel it."

Classes in the machine shop and in the wood shop meet each Monday and Thursday evenings; in the print shop each Monday and Tuesday evening and the forge and welding class each Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9. These classes and many others of great interest are offered by the adult education department of the high school. Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Weston.

Juan Soto Held In County Jail

Juan Soto, of Los Alamitos, who is charged with possession and operation of a 50 gallon still, had a preliminary hearing in the justice court here late yesterday afternoon. Judge Kenneth E. Morrison set bail for $2000. Soto was unable to raise the bail and is being held in the county jail. The hearing has been set for March 6, at 9 a. m.

Deputy Sheriff McElvey, Eells, Dean, and Nickles went to Soto's ranch to look for a man wanted by Los Angeles police on Saturday and upon arriving smelled the mash brewing and when they entered the house found 15 barrels of mash and the 50 gallon still, they reported.

struggle that began when she was informed she was in Monterey, not, as she thought, in Santa Monica, 360 miles south.

Since then, Dr. Dormody said, she has racked her brain trying to bridge the gap of events that intervened between her last recollection in Santa Monica and her arrival at the Monterey hospital six days later. Some things, she said, were becoming more clear.

She told the United Press today she could remember sending a telegram to her mother from Santa Monica. Her memory then jumped three days to produce a vague recollection of registering at the San Carlos hotel in Monterey two days later. She cannot reproduce, she said, the five days she spent in Monterey, but her memory is clear from the point when Dr. Dormody explained where she was and took her to the hospital.

Relativity Theory Not Practical, Prof. Einstein Declares

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 3.—(UP)—Dr. Albert Einstein scoffs at the idea that only a dozen men in the world understand his theories.

Everybody who understands mathematics understands them, he told interviewers who greeted him when he paused briefly here last night on his eastward journey.

But the theory of relativity is not practical, he admits; nothing fundamentally scientific is practical. It means nothing to the man on the street, who does not need it, Einstein declared.

The scientist, expressing pleasure over his trip to the United States, said he had planned many things "about atoms and spiral nebulae that will help me much."

Peace Officers Meet Wednesday

The Peace Officers' association of Orange county will meet at 8:30 p. m., tomorrow, in the Balboa Palsades club at Corona Del Mar, with a dinner preceding the meeting.

Burke will talk on the crime problem, while Price, who represents the Better America Federation in Los Angeles, will speak on communism.

IN LEGION PRODUCTION

When the American Legion presents the well known drama, "Outward Bound," in Ebell auditorium Friday and Saturday nights of this week, prominent roles will be taken by Edwin Beisel (standing) as "Tom Pryor" and C. James Norton as "the Rev. M. Duke". Beisel's part is that of one who is sailing for an unknown port and whose fears play a large part in the dramatic development of the plot. Norton's is that of a minister who has lost his life long work only to find himself again in the course of the voyage. Proceeds from "Outward Bound" will be used by the Legion post in its welfare work among veterans.—Photo by Rundell.

FIVE GREATEST CHRISTIANS IN HISTORY NAMED

CHICAGO — The five greatest Christians in history were Paul of Tarsus, Augustine of Hippo, Francis of Assisi, Pope Gregory VII and Martin Luther, according to Rabbi Solomon Freehof, leader of K.A.M. Temple, Chicago.

Rabbi Freehof does not include Jesus of Nazareth in his list of great Christians because, he says, "he was more than a man and is not to be classified among men, however great they may be. From the Jewish point of view, Jesus was not a Christian. He was born a Jew, trained a Jew."

Paul of Tarsus was the greatest of all Christians, Rabbi Freehof said, because he found the religion a small Judean sect, gave it a world wide scope and left it a universal faith.

But while Paul gave Christianity a world sweep, Dr. Freehof believes it was Augustine who gave intellectual depth to the religion.

Pope Gregory VII

Under the leadership of Pope Gregory VII, Dr. Freehof said, "Christianity grew into a government. It dominated states and asserted that the church, instituted by God, is higher than governments created by men. Gregory gave the church its medieval super-dominant power. He fought with kings and humbled emperors. He rescued bishops from the evils of the feudal system and cleansed Christendom."

Francis of Assisi was listed for his intense devotion and self-sacrifice.

It remained for Martin Luther, the rabbi believes, to demonstrate that the church had the power of adjusting itself to the changing conditions of human history. This he did by his reform of the church in Germany and northern Europe.

Religious Geniuses

Rabbi Freehof's list of five greatest religious geniuses all came from the orient. They were two Jews, an Arab and two Aryans. He listed them as follows: "Moses, who made religion ethical; Jesus, who made ethics beautiful; Zoroaster, who made social progress religious; Buddha, who made pessimism altruistic; Mohammed, who made religion democratic."

The five greatest Jews of all time, Rabbi Freehof listed as, Moses, Isalah, Hillel, Maimonides and Mendelssohn.

CHAMBER ELECTS NEW DIRECTORS

Election of five members of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce board of directors was underway today. Announcement of the results of the election will be made tomorrow, George Raymer, secretary of the chamber, announced today. Polls are open until 5 p. m. and all those who desire to vote must do so in person at the chamber office. The election is being held because of the expiration of the terms of five of the directors.

The regular directors' meeting that is ordinarily scheduled for Wednesday morning has been postponed until Thursday at 9 a. m. Raymer announced today. At this meeting the new directors will be present. Plans for the annual membership banquet to be held in the near future will be made at this meeting.

Mouse In Liquor Causes Quandary In Local Court

The question as to whether a mouse found in mash to be used for making liquor makes the liquor unfit for beverage purposes came up before the justice court this morning when Officer Murrillo testified that he had tasted the liquor found at the home of Benito Medina in order to find out if it had alcoholic content.

Judge Kenneth E. Morrison asked Murrillo whether he had tasted the liquor before or after the mouse had been found in the mash and Murrillo said that he had tasted it before it had been found.

Medina was arraigned before the court this morning to answer to a charge of possession and operation of a still. He lives on Dyer road near Delhi, where the arresting officers found a 25 gallon still and 6 gallons of liquor, they said. The preliminary hearing has been set for March 6.

POISONOUS GAS IN ATMOSPHERE CAUSES DEATHS

MUNICH, (I.N.S.) — The mystery of the death fog in Belgium, in which 63 Belgians lost their lives and many were seriously poisoned last December, has been solved, according to Professor Storm van Leeuwen.

In an article in the "Munich Medicinal Weekly" Professor van Leeuwen declares that the death fog is due to what he calls "factory gas."

"From December 1 to December 8," the professor explains, "a dense fog prevailed in the Liege district. The air was very cold while the sun was shining in higher areas. The cold air, therefore, could not rise so that a ventilation in vertical direction was impossible. As the wind was very calm there was no horizontal ventilation, either. Near-by factories produce zinc and superphosphat and the poisonous gas which is brought about in the process and acridly rises up in the air, conglomerated."

"Finally, on Wednesday, December 3, the amount of gas in the air became greater than human beings can stand. While, under ordinary circumstances, the inhabitants of this district only suffered from slight catarrhs sometimes due to the gas filled air, this time the gas fog had deadly effects."

Prof. van Leeuwen's explanation of the death fog is bound to cause considerable uneasiness as weather conditions like those which prevailed near Liege may occur in practically every factory district, thus endangering all the workers and the inhabitants nearby.

It costs you absolutely nothing to receive a free ten-day test supply of the herbal muscle-tonic "Plapao," and to examine and have demonstrated to you, privately—a scientific self-treatment, which so many others attest under oath rid them of their rupture and saved them from the knife.

FREE - PLAPAO - FREE

Stuart's Plapao-Pads are patently different from the truss, being mechanico-chemico applicators made self-adhesive purposely to keep the muscle tonic called "Plapao" continuously applied to the affected parts, and to minimize danger of slipping and painful friction. Fabric soft as velvet—easy to apply—inexpensive. During 24 years thousands have successfully treated themselves at home — without hindrance from work. Awarded Gold Medal, Rome; Grand Prix, Paris and Honorable Mention, San Francisco. Process of recovery is natural, so no subsequent use for any kind of support.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is supremely important what you think about God's working in His world. What you think does not alter His plan, but your recognition of His touch with your life determines what you are able and ready to receive from Him. When you grasp the fact that He loves you as completely as though you were His only child and that He shares your every joy and woe, you think more of being and doing what shall fulfill His perfect will for you. Loss of what you think might please and comfort and then you are ready to shoulder your burdens with a brave heart and with a confidence which nothing can shake.

CLAIM GOODS NOT AS REPRESENTED

Asserting in a complaint filed in superior court yesterday that the defendants failed to supply merchandise in accordance with samples and that as a consequence their business suffered, Heaton and Glimese, Incorporated, has filed suit against the Cactizona Products company and others, in which judgment of $11,320 is sought.

The action is concerned with a boiler cleaning compound manufactured by the defendants, for which the plaintiff is sole agent in the Huntington Beach oil field. The material shipped by the defendant organization, it is alleged, was of inferior quality and did not do the work that was claimed for it, and as a consequence the business built up by the plaintiff was damaged. The sum of $10,000 is asked on this charge, and $1320 is asked for 44 drums of material for which the plaintiff is unable to collect because of its alleged inferior quality.

NEW WARNING ON RABIES IS MADE PUBLIC

Two more dogs with positive rabies have been found by the county health authorities in the vicinity of Seventeenth and Baker streets since the death of a dog a week ago that belonged to J. T. Raitt, 1804 North Baker street. The dog was proved by the health authorities to have died of rabies. The other two dogs infected with the disease belong to Mrs. Jesse J. Beemer, 1102 West Seventeenth, and L. J. Weinback, 1811 North Baker.

Some weeks previous to the death of the Raitt dog there was a stray dog in the vicinity that fought with many dogs and very possibly bit a number of them. Health authorities believe that this stray dog is the source of the infection in the neighborhood. The other two cases have developed within the last two days.

In view of the seriousness of the situation the health department issued a warning to people in the vicinity and requests them to keep their pets confined and under observation for the next few weeks until it is certain that they have not contracted rabies.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, issued the following statement in regard to the problem:

"Since rabies is very difficult to control and since the infection is one of the most dangerous with which the department has to cope, we are asking the complete co-operation of people in the vicinity of the outbreak.

"Any change of disposition, if the lower jaw of the animal hangs down, if the animal has difficulty in swallowing, suggestive of a bone in the throat, or if the animal shows any tendency to be irritable, are all clinical symptoms of rabies. If anyone with a dog notices any of these symptoms, the health department should be notified at once. "Any person coming in contact with the saliva of a rabid animal is open to infection of the disease, and while only approximately 20 per cent of people that contact the disease become infected, the disease is 100 per cent fatal if symptoms do develop. "If we are to prevent a serious situation arising from this outbreak, we must have the whole-hearted co-operation of the public in reporting any animals that have symptoms of rabies."

Planners, County Board Consider Street Opening

Routing of Glassell street and opening of that thoroughfare from Orange to Santa Ana was the subject of a luncheon conference attended by members of the board of supervisors, county planning commission and planning commissions of the cities of Santa Ana and Orange at Ketter's cafe today.

A route starting north of Orange on the Olive road, eliminating certain curves and jogs, and continuing through Orange to Santa Ana, where the road opens some new territory to form a junction with Grand avenue and then on south to a junction with Newport road, has been suggested in maps presented to the county planning commission by its engineer, Nat Neff.

SALARY URGED BY JUDGE FOR INTERPRETER

Endorsement of a bill which, according to Superior Judge H. G. Ames is pending in the state legislature, creating the appointive office of official county interpreter of Orange county, was asked of the board of supervisors at noon today by the three judges of the superior court.

They declared through their spokesman, Judge H. G. Ames, that the present system whereby an interpreter serves on a per diem basis is unsatisfactory and that the present interpreter, Charlie Carrillo, is not busy with the court work a sufficient part of the time to provide proper wages.

Other departments of the county need the services of an interpreter, according to Judge Ames. These, he pointed out, included the district attorney's office, sheriff's office, justice court, marriage license bureau, motor vehicle department and coroner's office.

The present bill, according to the judge, will provide a regular salary at a living wage and enable the county interpreter to be available for all departments at any time.

Chairman John C. Mitchell advised the three judges that the matter would be considered at their conference on the county government act this afternoon. When he asked if there were any further suggestions, Judge James L. Allen replied that he felt it would be wise to have the board of supervisors make the appointment of interpreter.

Reverse Ruling On Light Plant Suit For Damage

Reversing a judgment in the Orange county superior court in the damage action of Eva H. Fendley, et al, against the city of Anaheim for damages, a remittitur and opinion was received today by County Clerk J. M. Backs from the fourth district appellate court.

The plaintiffs had sued for damages, basing their action on vibrations caused by operation of the city light plant, which affected their homes, and judgment for the defendant had been entered by Judge S. M. Marsh, of San Diego, who tried the case. The opinion was written by Judge Benjamin Warner, of Riverside, as justice pro tem.

BANK PROTESTS FORMATION OF NEW DISTRICT

A new angle in the controversy over the proposed creation of the Dana Point Sanitation district was injected today during the hearing at the time for protest before the board of supervisors during the morning session of that body, when written protests against the formation of the district were filed by a group of property owners and electors of the district and by the First National bank of Santa Ana.

The protest of the bank was an unusual feature of the proceedings. In that it declared it held a trust deed against the majority of the land proposed to be included in the district, which if the district were formed and bonds issued, would become a second lien against the property.

Formal protest of the residents of the district carried the signatures of 22 persons, which it was said, constituted more than two per cent of the residents of the district. The law, it was pointed out, under which the proceeding is being taken, provides that in the event formation of the district by the supervisors is protested by two per cent of the residents, an election on the subject shall be called or the proceedings dropped.

Attorney Stanley Reinhaus, who represented the bank at the hearing, asked that the matter be discontinued until after the trust deed which is in the amount of $171,985.09 is paid off, and said that the due date was October 20, 1931, and the only method of protection the bank had in maintaining the security value it held was in protesting and asking the board to withhold action.

Judge F. C. Drumm, who appeared as attorney for the Dana Point interests, asked that the matter be continued. He urged that the board call an election to determine the voice of the voters on the matter.

On a motion of Supervisor George Jeffrey, the matter was continued for two weeks.

Hugh F. Kenney, representing the Capistrano Beach Sanitary district, was also heard by the board in connection with the matter. He urged that all possible speed be used in reaching a solution of the problem, as there was a menace to public health involved. He also pointed out that the Capistrano Beach district was anxious to get a combined district and a joint treatment plan for the two, if Dana Point was to be organized separately.

A petition filed several weeks ago for inclusion of Dana Point in the Capistrano Beach sanitary district, resulted in court action enjoining the Capistrano board from acting on the petition until after the proposed formation of a separate Dana Point district, which was at the time pending before the supervisors, be settled.

Judges for the occasion were J. B. Tucker, Fred Faber, Guy Pacquette, and Merton Butler. More than 250 people attended the meet, which included 12 events in which the various troops in the county participated.

According to Lloyd Stearns, scout field executive, another meet is being planned that will take place in about six weeks.

Pay Increase For Deputy Is Urged

Increase of salary of Dave McMillan, officer of the Orange county probation department, was strongly recommended to the board of supervisors today by the county probation committee. Members of the committee who appeared before the board and urged an increase from $150 to $200 monthly included S. C. Hartman, of Fullerton, and J. A. Cranston, of Santa Ana. An increase has been recommended by the grand jury, but not to the extent sought by the committee. The board advised it would give the matter proper consideration.

Calvin Coolidge Says . . . . .

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States
NORTHAMPTON, March 3.—In that systematic and organized way which is their national characteristic, a considerable body of German writers have made a sympathetic response to the men of letters in France who had appealed to them to promote a better understanding between the two countries. This action might well be supplemented by all the agencies of the press and extended to the whole world. Of course there is room for argument as to whether criticism of foreign nations produces dislike of them or whether it merely caters to a dislike already existing. Probably both elements are present. Yet if such criticism could be avoided the result certainly would be beneficial. In our own case the State Department always tries to be fair to foreign countries. If our domestic press attack the attitude of our government it greatly encourages foreign antagonism to our country. If it attacks the foreign attitude it increases our antagonism to foreign countries. Governments are almost always sincerely attempting to conduct themselves so that their people can maintain friendly intercourse with each other. All nations want good will, security, and peaceful commerce. They are rivals mainly in world service. In these efforts they ought to have the support of the public press. ARMY REQUESTS MEN'S CLOTHING

If the men's social service department of the Salvation Army is able to continue its work of aiding men who are out of work, providing employment to many unemployed, it can only do so by the aid and assistance of the people of the communities in which the need is felt, according to Brig. Paul Heisinger, officer in charge of that department in Long Beach, Santa Ana, San Pedro and Wilmington.

"We need a better grade of clothing from homes in which there are outworn garments of every description," Heisinger stated. "This material is collected by men driving the trucks with the big red shields, it is carted down to headquarters, and there employment is given men who are otherwise unemployed. There it is sorted, and rehabilitated, and clothing is thus provided to those who need it for a very small sum, just sufficient to maintain the working force."

The brigadier pointed out the fact that during the winter months it was practically impossible to sell any shoes, as hundreds of pairs were given away each week to those who could not buy. The same was largely true of other garments especially of men's wearing apparel.

Not only is there a need felt for shoes, suits, hats, wearing apparel of every sort, but also, for furniture, and other things of the sort for which there are calls all the time. Old papers are collected and sold as junk, together with magazines, books and other articles.

OFFICER ON DUTY UNTIL MIDNIGHT

Starting today there will be a state officer on duty at the motor vehicle department in the court house from 5 p. m. until midnight. This service is being offered the public so that in case of wrecks or need for an officer, one will be available.

Operators' examinations will be given from 5 p. m. until 9 p. m. daily hereafter. This is being done for the convenience of operators who are unable to get in during the daylight hours.

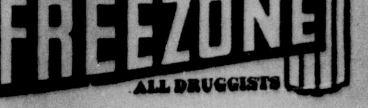

One more car will be added to the state night patrol, with two men in the car. The addition of this car will make three cars in use in night patrol work. These cars keep in touch with the headquarters office constantly.

HARNOIS WILL SEEK POST ON CITY COUNCIL

An aspirant for the post of city trustee from the first ward, which is now held by J. L. McBride, made formal announcement of his entry into the political ring today, when C. A. Harnois, 311 South Broadway, issues a statement of candidacy. He asks support of the voters from the first ward at the municipal election, which is to be held on April 13.

McBride has not definitely announced his decision in the matter of seeking re-election, although it is believed by many that he will permit the use of his name on the ticket. The announcement from Harnois is the second official statement of a candidate for the council, the first having been made last Friday by William J. Tway, well known business men, who is closely affiliated with the Santa Ana Business Men's association and the Orange County Builders Exchange.

In his statement of candidacy Harnois, who is proprietor of a book and stationery store on West Fourth street, says he is interested in building up the city government by keeping within boundaries of expenditures to protect property owners from excessive taxes. He also declares in favor of additional public parks and suggests that the opening of Fourth street and Century boulevard is an important problem which has been neglected in the past.

The candidate has served as public administrator in Missoula county, Montana, and ran for county auditor there in 1912. He came to Santa Ana when 18 years old and has been a property owner ever since. He is a member of the Elks and Modern Woodmen lodges and agent for the Curtis Publishing company.

"Announcing myself as a candidate for city trustee from the first ward, I believe I am qualified to fill the position and should I be successful I will strive to do justice to myself and with honor to all of its citizens and with honor to the people own the city and should have a full voice in matters of improvement as they are the ones who have to pay the taxes which are becoming a burden on some of us."

"I believe some important things have been neglected. One is the attention to the rapid increase in population to west of the city and that Fourth street and the Century boulevard should have been opened up long ago so that this trade would come to Santa Ana from that district. I believe that we should have public parks when the city can afford them. I have watched and enjoyed the building up of our city from 9000 population to the present time and I want to see it continue to grow and attract home builders."

"If I am elected to fill the office of trustee, I will give close attention to the building up of our city government, being careful to keep within the boundaries of necessary expenditures, so that property owners will not be overcome with excessive taxes.

"With these suggestions, if they meet with your approval, I will be pleased to be of service to you."

ONE FIFTEENTH OF ADULTS IN NIGHT CLASSES

One person out of every 15 of the population of the city of Santa Ana is enrolled in the adult education department of the city schools, it was announced last night at a dinner meeting of the teaching staff of the department, by Mrs. Golden Weston, director.

This ranks Santa Ana on a par with Long Beach, so far as the ratio of adult education enrollment to city population is concerned and sets the figure for Santa Ana far in front of the average of 1 in every 51 of population which has been determined in a recent survey of 200 cities in the United States with a population of 30,000 or over.

"Adult education is one of the most significant movements in the field of American education, it is shown by these figures," Mrs. Weston said. "Keeping in a learning frame of mind serves off old age. The increase of leisure is a factor in the importance of adult education, as is the necessity for decreasing the high percentage of illiteracy in the nation. It has been predicted by observers and students of future trends that by 1960 the work week will consist of five four-hour days. This means that there must be preparation for the sane use of leisure or the human race faces tragedy."

Taxation problems in connection with the sources of funds for maintenance of adult education work were briefly discussed during the evening, although the major discussion concerned plans for making adult education of more value to the public and more interesting to students enrolled in the courses offered.

There is a staff of 50 teachers engaged in the work of the department and classes are held in 20 buildings, it was stated by Mrs. Weston in showing the scope of the work that is sponsored by the department.

Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston, Assistant Superintendent Percy R. Davis and County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson were guests at the dinner and participated in the discussions of the plans of the department.

Marriage License Bureau Makes February Record

The largest number of marriage licenses issued during any February since the adoption in 1927 of the law providing that a notice of intention to marry be filed three days prior to the issuance of the license, was marked up on the records of the marriage license bureau of the county last month. It was reported today by County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Licenses were issued to 283 couples during February, which is just 63 more than for February of 1930, when 220 were issued. In 1929 the tally was 225 and in 1928 it was 242. Before the waiting period was authorized in August of 1927, the number of licenses issued in February of that year was 356.

ORGANIZATION OF FRAUD UNIT IS ANNOUNCED

Announcement of the organization of a fraud department in connection with the office of the state corporation commissioner was announced yesterday by Commissioner Raymond L. Haight, who was in Santa Ana for a conference with District Attorney Sam L. Collins. The commissioner also said he was seeking support for amendments to the corporate securities act which, he said, would enable better enforcement of the act.

The fraud department plans to assemble all possible information concerning persons engaged in fraudulent practices as well as compiling legal information for use of district attorneys throughout the state Haight said. The amendments to the corporate securities act, which he is sponsoring, include a provision making it possible for the commissioner to enjoin fraudulent practices, one defining personally owned security and another giving the commissioner right to employ counsel.

Commissioner Haight's statement, made following his conference with Collins, follows: "The purpose in making this swing through the southern counties is to advise the various district attorneys of the completion of a fraud department in connection with the division of corporations of the state of California. This fraud department has its own corps of attorneys, investigators, auditors and clerical help.

"It is the purpose of this department to assemble from every possible source all information concerning persons engaged in fraudulent practices as well as all of the decisions throughout the United States, interpreting the various corporate securities acts and 'blue sky laws' and from this time on all of the facilities of that department will be available to the district attorneys in tracing down charges of violations and in following through all prosecutions where it is found that actual violation has occurred.

"I might also state that I am anxious to secure the support of the people of Orange county in connection with certain amendments to the corporate securities act which the division of corporations recognizes as of paramount importance, if the act is to be enforced as was originally intended. Objection is expected to certain of these amendments because of the fact that they will effectively prevent any continuation of certain known 'rackets' now being worked throughout the state.

"Among the amendments are the following: 1. The giving of the right to the corporation commissioner of enjoining a fraudulent practice in a civil proceedings in the name of the people where it is found that such a practice exists. Under the present law it is more or less a matter of luck after it once is started. Nothing can be done until the fraud has been perpetrated, then the defrauder is arrested and suffers under the penal provisions of the act, but this is of little effect in restoring money to investors.

"2. Another amendment is that which is more particularly described: What is a personally owned security? In order to prevent a continuation of the present method of having securities issued in states without a corporate securities act and the bringing of them into this state and selling them as personally owned securities.

"3. An amendment is proposed giving the commissioner of corporations the right to employ counsel to represent the division, as is now the case with the railroad commission and many of the other state commissions.

"The requirements with regard to brokers are being tightened very considerably."

LOCAL BAND TO OFFER PROGRAM HERE TONIGHT

By RUTH ANDREWS

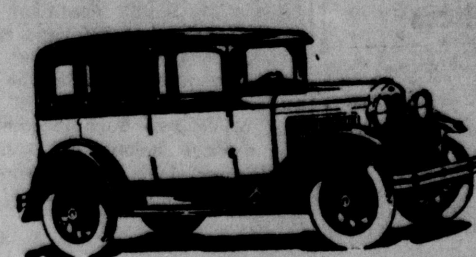

Promptly at 8:15 p. m. today the Santa Ana Municipal band will present a program of high merit and without doubt the music lovers will enjoy the variety and color of it.

The opening march is a composition of Frank Goldman, the famous New York bandmaster who broadcast last Sunday evening for the Atwater Kent radio program, while the overture, "The Roman Carnival," is the work of Berlioz, who was known as the father of modern orchestration. In this overture he brings before the audience a realistic picture of the gayety and merriment of the Roman people during their carnival. "The Show Boat" and "Rose Marie" selections will please lovers of light operas, while the "Organ Offertoire" and the "Lost Chord" will appeal for their religious nature. The selection from the opera "Pagliacci" is well known by the opera goers, while the characteristic "In the Clock Store" will bring a happy close to this varied program.

This concert is to be given at the Santa Ana high school auditorium, free to the public, and a large crowd of lovers of good music is anticipated.

(F. O. B. Santa Ana, freight and delivery, taxes and license extra)

At FERNAN LAKE, IDAHO, a Ford car went through the ice and was submerged in fifteen feet of water. After twelve days it was raised, a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed and it was driven away under its own power. Even the exterior finish showed no serious damage. There is no doubt that the new Ford is fully prepared to meet the sternest needs of winter driving.

What Is a Vicarious Ailment?

Ans.—A headache, a nervous heart, general nervousness, goitre, ear and eye troubles, kidney and liver troubles. In fact most human ailments are VICARIOUS IN NATURE. You didn't abuse your head to cause headache, your thyroid to cause goitre, your ears to cause ear trouble, your heart to cause heart trouble, or your liver to cause liver trouble, DID YOU? Then what did you abuse? And if you are honest you will say "My stomach and intestines."

THE EXPLANATION

Yes, that's true, and the gas in the stomach affects the heart and the head, while EXCESS poisons in the intestines affect the ears, eyes, nerves, kidneys, liver, bladder, prostate, ovaries, thyroids, BLOOD STREAM, and THROUGH IT EVERY NERVE AND TISSUE IN THE BODY. A mother said to me, "Doctor, why is my child's ear discharging as it is?" And I replied, "Mother, that is a perfect example of EXCESS poisons that the intestines did not and could not ELIMINATE." THIS IS YOUR "CUE" AND WILL HELP YOU TO REASON FROM THE EFFECT BACK TO THE CAUSE OF YOUR AILMENT.

MANY ILLS ARE DUE TO FATIGUE

Common Cold Is Very Easy "To Catch" When "Tired Out"

Fatigue, according to medical authorities, lowers the resistance of the human system. As a result, the system is more susceptible to infections. For example, when fatigued, the body is easily chilled and often a head cold or worse follows.

One of the most effective ways to overcome fatigue is to eat or drink something sweet. A soda fountain beverage, ice cream, a piece of candy and small cakes are appropriate because they are quickly digested and their energy is ready at once to restore vigor.

Thousands of people who work, or spend the day shopping, have learned the value of a mid-afternoon sweet snack to banish fatigue. Children upon coming home from school are also benefited by a light, nutritious sweet food. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

SUPPORT FOR CLEAN MOTION PICTURES USED

ORANGE, March 3.—The support of good motion pictures was urged by Mrs. W. W. Green, of Hollywood, chairman of the National Board of Review, when she spoke before members of the Orange Women's club yesterday. Mrs. Green is a past state president of the Federation of Women's clubs.

"This is an age of challenge," Mrs. Green declared, "and club women are being challenged both as individuals and as organizations. One of the greatest of these challenges is the motion picture. Club women are now confronted with the problem as to whether they shall let their arteries harden, their muscles stiffen and roll over, or if they shall accept the world's challenge and go on."

"Preaching against pictures you believe to be harmful never gets you anywhere. It is better to ignore them. It is hard to realize that every day 17 million persons in the United States are seeing motion pictures, and there is a population of about 120 million. Think what seeing salacious pictures constantly would mean to this vast audience."

"It is a well known fact that a picture is made successful by its title. Recently a picture was released under the title of 'Harmony in the Home' and it was a box office flop. The title was changed to 'She Steps Out' and immediately everyone went to see where she stepped."

"Pictures are constantly improved, but it must be borne in mind that producers are making pictures which will appeal to the greatest number of persons. The

BACTERIOLOGISTS FIND QUICK WAY TO DESTROY "ATHLETE'S FOOT" GERM

Look between your toes. Is the skin thick and white and unpleasantly moist? Is it cracked? Red? Dry and scaly? Or covered with tiny blisters—a general itching condition? Then it is high time to do something about it, for every one of these symptoms is an indication of the widespread infection called "Athlete's Foot." A fact of long standing, it has already attacked more than ten million people in America.

Apply ABSORBINE JR. to your feet twice daily, as recommended by specialists. It not only safeguards against infection, but actually kills the germs wherever it penetrates. For after thorough tests, bacteriologists of a famous New York laboratory found that this mild, soothing, yet powerful, antiseptic is especially deadly to the tinea trichophyton germs which cause "Athlete's Foot."

It is wise to use ABSORBINE JR. after every exposure to wet surfaces—in public places—even in your own bathroom. For the tinea trichophyton parasites breed and lurk simply everywhere, and are always ready to attack. At all drug stores, $1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

ORANGE GIRL IS BRIDE OF BEACH CITY RESIDENT

ORANGE, March 3.—Of interest to their many Orange friends was the wedding of Miss Kolkhorst, attractive daughter of Mrs. William Kolkhorst, 1275 East Walnut street, and Howard Linn Hoy, Long Beach, which took place Sunday afternoon in the Kolkhorst home. Only relatives of the young people were present.

The Rev. F. W. Howlett, pastor of the First Methodist church of Imperial and a life long friend of both the bride and bridegroom, read the service, the ceremony taking place under an arch of greenery from which was suspended a wedding bell. Two pedestals of flowers and ferns formed the base of the arch where baskets of yellow gladioli made a colorful note. The background was formed with a curtain of fern and as late afternoon was chosen as the time for the ceremony, the rooms were softly lighted with stately yellow tapers set in crystal holders.

The bride was gown in egg-shell georgette cut on graceful lines and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and freesias. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. C. Wesley Kolkhorst, sister-in-law of the bride, played Cadman's "At Dawning" as a piano solo and the bride and bridegroom entered the room as Mrs. Kolkhorst played Lohengrin's wedding march.

After the ceremony the bride cut the beautifully decorated wedding cake which was served with cream molded in the form of wedding bells. Assisting her mother in serving the refreshments was the bride's sister, Miss Elsie Kolkhorst. Mr. and Mrs. Hoy left immediately on a honeymoon trip and on their return will establish their home at Holtville, where Mr. Hoy is engaged in the brokerage business. The bride is a graduate of the Orange union high school and for several years was a bookkeeper in Los Angeles. She has been staying with her mother in Orange since October.

Teaching Old Folks to Be Young

Trying to solve the problem of workers who have to be let out because of their age, science and industry are combining to keep elder employes at peak efficiency, and they have found worry over domestic troubles a big cause for a too early loss of youth

By MARJORIE VAN DE WATER

IN the city of San Francisco a unique school has been started—a school for teaching youth to those of middle age and beyond. In charge of the classes is a woman who has herself most ably followed her own prescriptions. Dr. Lillian J. Martin was retired from employment 14 years ago when she was made professor emerita of psychology at Stanford University, where she had previously taught for 27 years. But she has gone right on working. Now, at 79, she is a pioneer in this unexplored field of research.

And a very fertile field she has found it. Employers as well as the old people who have gone to her for advice, are enthusiastic about what she has done. Some large industrial concerns are sending to the clinic, as a matter of routine, all those middle-aged and elderly workers who are beginning to drop below their previous standards of efficiency.

It is Dr. Martin's belief, based on the results she has obtained from her work, that almost every worker can be held at the peak of his powers for a far longer period than had ever been thought possible.

And her attempts to demonstrate her beliefs are welcomed by employers, for it is becoming more and more necessary for industry either to employ the middle-aged and old or to contribute directly or indirectly to their support.

FOR America is growing old. Dr. Warren S. Thompson, as a result of his research as director of the Scripps Foundation for Research in Population Problems, has come to the conclusion that only 30 or 40 years from now we will have twice as many old people as today.

"Children will be relatively about three-fourths as numerous as now," he says, "and old people will be nearly twice as numerous. It will be as though we took about one-fourth of our children today and by some hocus-pocus transmuted them instantaneously into men and women who had passed their fiftieth year."

When the person applies to the clinic for advice or treatment, Dr. Martin first makes what she calls a psychodiagnosis of the case. She does not content herself with finding out the surface troubles which have been worrying the patient—the lowered output of work, the wandering attention, or the lack of ever-necessary "pep."

She looks beyond all these symptoms for the underlying cause. This often involves a study of the history of the patient way back to his infancy, for it has been found that many of the troubles of old age have their origin in the nursery.

Fears, Dr. Martin discovered, that have their origin in early youth and are not overcome at that time, may remain submerged during middle life and become intensified again as the afflicted person approaches old age. These fears, whether they are of falling from a high place, of being run over by an automobile, of making errors, of being robbed, of being rebuked, or of becoming ill, may become so intense and persistent as to interfere seriously with the efficiency of the worker.

LACK of co-ordination of the muscles, Dr. Martin believes to be responsible for a multitude of ills, including timidity, dependence, and lack of initiative and self-confidence. She points out that these traits, though they are generally characteristic of aging people, are also found in children and adolescents. The child who stands about, unwilling to join the other children, and the one who seems afraid to start on any adventure, is often the child who is physically awkward and muscularly untrained.

And finally, Dr. Martin found that old age is blamed for a falling off in quantity and quality of work which is in reality due to emotional strain either in the home or at work.

Dr. Lillian J. Martin . . . conducts a school for teaching youth . . . to those who are getting on into middle age. . . . You need not grow old just because you have lived many years, she believes . . . and her work proves it.

She tells the story of a woman bookkeeper who had kept her books perfectly for years. She then became conscious of a deterioration in her work. She made errors, and had to work early and late to keep her records up to date. The woman blamed her health, but a physical examination proved that there was nothing wrong with that. The real cause was found to be a series of nightly quarrels with her husband.

This case Dr. Martin believes to be typical of many in all branches of industry. "It is the lack of adjustment in the family relation," she says, "that plays perhaps the most common and absorbing role in fears and complexes, so that for every family squabble there is an actual loss in money to industry."

An investigation of causes of slowed production in the plant of the Western Electric Company recently conducted by G. A. Pennock, showed that while fatigue was important in this connection, and rest periods greatly improved the efficiency, the emotional state of the employee was much more vital.

"Home conditions," said Mr. Pennock, "and other outside influences tended to create either a buoyant or a depressed spirit which modified production. Emotional status was reflected in performance; and the major component of this emotional condition was attitude toward supervisor."

HERE are some rules which Dr. Martin prescribes for the rehabilitation of old people and for the postponement of oncoming old age.

First, increase the speed with which you react to a signal. At the U. S. Bureau of Standards recently tests were made to see how quickly automobile drivers apply the brakes after they see a danger signal. Even if you respond to a danger signal within a half second, your car might have gone 30 feet during that time. That is the distance covered in a half second at 40 miles an hour.

But some drivers did not push down on the brake until one second had gone by. Their cars went 60 feet before the brakes were touched. How far would your car go?

If you are one of the type with slow "pick-up," when you grow old this failing will probably be exaggerated. Now is the time to test yourself, and speed up if necessary.

Games requiring fast thinking and alertness are recommended for this purpose. Double solitaire is better than the slow-moving chess. Tennis will help more than golf.

Next, give attention to your muscles and develop co-ordination in them. Regular physical exercise should be taken, although this need not necessarily be strenuous. The simple movements involved in shuffling cards made one old lady's wrists and fingers more flexible and added greatly to the facility with which she could use her hands.

THE next step is to develop your powers of observation. Most people form habits of observation dependent upon their particular interests. In walking down the same street, the engineer may see only the type of construction used in the buildings, the architect will notice also the carvings about the doorways, the silk merchant may pay attention to the material in the ladies' dresses, while the physician will see none of these things, but will note the physical defects of those who walk by.

As people grow older, their interests are inclined to narrow, and their field of observation likewise. To overcome this it is necessary to train yourself to look for some type of object to which you ordinarily pay no attention. If you practice this daily, and gradually add new groups, you will open up for yourself whole new fields of interest.

Perhaps the most helpful rule of all is one which it is most difficult to follow—learn to keep your mind on the present task. As exercises for this purpose, Dr. Martin recommends the learning of some new skill. Typewriting, until it reaches the automatic stage, is fine training. Learning to drive an automobile she regards as by far the best way to learn to concentrate the attention on the present and the world of reality outside one's own mind, imagination, and feelings.

DR. MARTIN accompanies her prescriptions with the caution not to be discouraged if the improvement seems slow. It takes a good deal longer for grown people to learn than it does for children, but if they have sufficient interest and a little persistence they can learn well. She began to learn to drive an automobile when she had passed her 76th birthday. She was 77 and had had more than 50 hours of driving instruction before she obtained her driver's license. But now she drives better than many who learned at a much earlier age.

Can rehabilitated old people find places in industry? Dr. Martin says yes. Considerable success has rewarded her efforts at placing those who have been made able to do live the goods. But the better time to think about readjustment is before the separation from employment takes place. Many firms today offer old age pensions, and they naturally prefer to have these go to those who have spent long service with them.

Old people, when they are at their best, can offer to the business world something which no one younger can. America showed her appreciation of maturity when she set a minimum age of 35 for her highest official—the president.

Thomas A. Edison, America's great inventor, and Paul von Hindenburg, Germany's great soldier and president, are each 83, and both are most active. George Bernard Shaw at 74 has just written perhaps his most scintillating play. Dr. A. A. Michelson, at 77, is still one of the world's greatest physicists. John R. Voorhis, who is 101, is still active as Grand Sachem of Tammany Hall. George F. Baker at 90 still keeps a firm grasp on his many financial interests. Sir Oliver Lodge is 79.

These men are young and active even at advanced ages.

Here's a Test of "Mental" Age

IF you think your youthful powers of observation may be slipping, get out your pencil and then read the following paragraph:

At 2:30 in the morning, the janitor was awakened by the smell of smoke which seemed to be coming from the furnace room. At first he thought it due to the smoldering of some trash which the owner had ordered him to burn the day before. This trash consisted of a quantity of old newspapers and cotton waste which had been stacked in the small storeroom at the rear of the building and which the fire inspectors had ordered removed when they went through the building on Tuesday. On Wednesday, the day previous to the fire, the janitor had gradually burned all the stuff in the furnace used for heating the building. This was a large new boiler in excellent condition. When the smoke continued to increase in amount, however, the man got up and sending his wife to turn in the fire alarm, he set about rousing the tenants and fighting the flames which had by then spread all through the first floor apartments.

Now cover the paragraph you just read with a sheet of paper and see how well you can answer the following questions:

1. When was the building last inspected by fire officials? . . . . .
2. Could the fire have started in a pile of trash in the rear room? . . . . .
3. Who told the janitor to burn the trash? . . . . .
4. On what day was the fire discovered? . . . . .
5. Did the fire do any damage to the apartments in the building? . . . . .

The answers are (1) Tuesday, (2) No, because the janitor had burned it all, (3) The owner, (4) Thursday, (5) Yes.

BASEBALL'S BIGGEST BONERS

EVEN THE GREAT TY COBB was guilty of a glaring mental blunder on the ball field. It happened in a game between Detroit and Washington. George Burns, Detroit first-baseman, hit a long liner to the deepest center field corner. Burns was rounding third before Clyde Milan, Washington outfielder, retrieved the ball. Cobb, coaching at third and seeing that a throw could not possibly catch Burns, accompanied the runner to the plate with a series of whoops and backslaps. Foxy Clark Griffith, Washington manager, contended that since the ball was still in play, Cobb had retired the runner by coacher's interference. Umpire Hildebrand upheld the contention and baseball's smartest player was that day crowned the goat.

FISH AND GAME BILLS PROPOSE MANY CHANGES

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—(UP)—From the creation of new state game reserves to the taxation of shotgun shells to buy and establish public shooting grounds, the fish and game measures before the state legislature run the gamut from the serious to the ridiculous.

One lawmaker wants $50,000 appropriated to establish a preserve for tule elk in Kern county. Other bills call for creation of game refuges in Sacramento and El Dorado counties.

S. E. 471 would require the state fish and game commission to hold public meetings at least every three months, and publish notice of such meetings. Another bill would establish a marine and commercial fish commission in the department of natural resources.

Would Hike Fishing Fee—Increases in the annual state fishing license to raise funds for establishing public shooting and fishing parks are asked in another bill. The increases would be: From $2 to $3 for citizens over 18 years of age who reside in California; citizens non-resident, from $3 to $4; aliens from $5 to $6. Licensees would require purchasers to agree to show it to any fish and game deputy or other peace officers, and the licensees would be for fiscal years instead of calendar years.

Foreign-born persons who have not declared their intention to become citizens would be prohibited from owning firearms, one legislator proposes. The same bill would set a $25 fishing license for persons ineligible to citizenship.

Other fish and game measures are: Closing season on sagehens and grouse, and increasing weekly limit on ducks from 50 to 60 birds. May Limit Shooting Days—Limiting shooting days of commercial hunting clubs to Sundays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, legal holidays, and opening and closing days of the season.

Prohibiting use of a pump or automatic shotgun firing more than three shots without reloading. Prohibiting use of automobile spotlights to hunt game.

Permitting owner of property to kill deer or other wild game found destroying crops. Empowering state to issue a permit to kill deer found destroying crops. Requiring state to pay not to exceed 90 cents a rod toward construction of fences to protect farm property against depredation of deer.

Open Season on Pheasants—Establishing open season on ring-necked pheasants from November 30 to December 8.

Adopting California valley quail as official bird and emblem of California.

Removing jackrabbits from classification of predatory animals.

Prohibiting taking of catfish for commercial purposes. Making it unlawful to catch trout less than 6 inches in length.

Brown, Dado In Rematch At Olympic

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—(UP)—Speedy Dado, who won the California bantamweight title three weeks ago from Newsboy Brown, risks his title in the same ring tonight when he again meets Brown.

Although the battles first met at 115 pounds, tonight's match was slated at the full bantamweight limit of 118 pounds. Brown is given an even chance to take the title from the Filipino.

Johnny Gonzales and Rita Punay battle six rounds in the semi-windup. Punay has been rocking opponents to sleep with regularity.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

LOS ANGELES—The reason George Harper, outfielder, has not signed his contract with the Los Angeles Angels is mumps, not money, flared informed Manager Jack Lavender today. He has been a holdout for several weeks, but word from his home indicated he would sign soon.

Norman Mohler, second baseman, still is in Los Angeles, but hasn't come to terms with the Angels. No word has been received from Jimmy Welsh, another holdout infielder.

The Angel regulars showed up yesterday and went through a workout. Arrivals were Fred Haney, Carl Dittmar, Art Parker, Ray Jacobson, Arnold Stutz and Louis Baker.

TUCSON, Ariz.—The Arizona State league became a second international league in fact, if not in name, today with the admission of the Nogales, Son., Internationales, replacing Miami, Ariz., which gave up its franchise in the circuit.

SAN DIEGO—Marty Callaghan, Dave Barbee and Cleo Carlyle were missing from the ranks of the Hollywood Stars today when the regulars reported to Manager Oscar Vitt, but all three were expected before the end of the week.

Norman Mohler, son of "Kid" Mohler, former major league star, and younger brother of Orr Mohler, U. S. C. football star, has caught the eye of Manager Vitt and survived the slashing of the rookie contingent. He plays second base.

AVALON—A regulation nine inning game was on schedule today when Manager Rogers Hornsby's Chicago Cubs.

Exceptionally warm weather is trying some of the hot bats. Jess Petty, pitcher, and was credited with returning Zack Taylor to his normal health after a light attack of flu.

SAN ANTONIO—Bill Terry, Freddy Fitzgerald and "Shanty" Hogan, the three important Giant holdouts, were liable to a fine of one day's pay today for failure to report.

Every 24 hours they are away, McGraw was considerably worried over Terry and was scheduled today to make an intensive attempt to lure his first baseman into camp.

TROUBLE WITH ROCKNE DENIED BY TROY COACH

BY GEORGE T. DAVIS
(I.N.S. Special Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Athletic moguls of the University of Southern California had considerable to say today about a rumor that Coach Knute Rockne of the Notre Dame football team had gone east in a huff that boded ill for Trojan-Irish gridiron relations after the present contract ends next fall at South Bend.

And all that was said was derogatory of the reliability of the rumor that Rockne was about to substitute the Golden Bears of California for the men of Troy as his far Western traditional foe.

Willis Hunter, director of athletics said: "As far as the University of California is concerned relationships with Notre Dame have been, and are on the most cordial and friendly grounds. We would regret very much if any publicity that has been issued in the past or may be forthcoming would jeopardize these relations."

When Coach Howard Jones was informed of this possible "break," he simply classed it as a wild rumor without any foundation.

"The people who started such a story did so without any knowledge of conditions. I never have said anything that could be construed as being detrimental to the style of football that Rockne teaches, which I always have admired."

When "Rock" was here he told me frankly that he was sore at the reception given him because of alleged differences with the Elks over the charity game, but he made it very clear that he did not enter into that part of the picture."

ORANGE LEAGUE TO USE SMALL SPHERE

The 13½-inch ball, already officially adopted by the National and American Night ball leagues of Southern California, will be the sphere used in all Orange League indoor baseball games this season, according to a decision reached by coaches here last night.

Having abandoned regular baseball, the coaches are getting ready to begin their "soft-ball" season April 17. The 13½-inch ball is half-an-inch smaller than the sphere employed in night leagues last summer.

No other action of importance was taken at the meeting but it was announced anew that Tustin will play Chino in a C.I.F. basketball playoff at Fullerton Saturday night and that Brea-Olinda's Class B quintet will meet Inglewood at Brea-Olinda the same evening.

Transfer of Jack Quinn from the Philadelphia Athletics to the Brooklyn Robins has left "Red" Faber of the Chicago White Sox as the last remaining spitball pitcher in the American league.

Ten years ago last December, the baseball magnates barred the spitball delivery. A provision, however, was made whereby hurlers who used this delivery prior to that time, would be allowed to continue. There were at that time 17 qualified spitballers, nine in the American and eight in the National league. Of these four survive with Quinn, Burleigh Grimes of the Pirates and Clarence Mitchell of the Giants in the National league and Faber in the junior circuit.

NEW MANAGER OFFERS HEAVY CARD THURSDAY

With Benny Whitman and Elmer Willson sitting in the driver's seat, the Orange County Athletic club will be doing business at the same old stand again Thursday night.

An all-star program of five six-round bouts has been scheduled by the new Santa Ana boxing promoters who succeed Henry T. Foust as operators of the south-side arena.

Whitman will be the matchmaker, Willson the business advisor. Willson enters the boxing game rated as the wealthiest man connected with the sport in California. He is said to be one of the heirs to an estate of many millions.

Both Whitman and Willson live in Los Angeles but expect to move to Santa Ana in the immediate future. Whitman already having established because headquarters here.

"Fighting Joe" Ruiz, clever young Santa Ana Mexican welterweight who formerly operated under the name of Reese, heads the reopening show, it was announced today. He goes against Danny Martin, an Eastern fighter who has been on the coast long enough to establish a good reputation. While Whitman considers all five of his bouts of equal worth it is understood the Ruiz-Martin fracas will get the top spot because of Ruiz's drawing power.

Other matches on the card follow:

Bobby James vs. Tony Bevo, 155-pounds.
Harry Patrick O'Hannigan vs. Columbus Evans, 160 pounds.
T. N. T. O'Hara vs. Paul Gomez, 150 pounds.
Freddie Hawkins vs. Pete Cardenas, 135 pounds.

Matchmaker Whitman and Promoter Willson will introduce a new schedule of prices that is likely to set well with Orange county best followers. The scale will range from 75 cents to $1.50.

The new promoters, anxious to get away on the right foot, believe their opening card one of the finest ever offered anywhere at popular prices. Whitman and Willson plan to show every Thursday night the best talent available.

FINAL STANDINGS IN BASKETBALL SHOWN

Final standings in Class A, B and C divisions of Coast Preparatory league basketball, announced today, find Santa Ana's Saints in their customary position near the bottom of the heap. NEW YORK, March 3.—Young Corbett, Fresno, Calif., was sought today by Madison Square Garden to meet Len Harvey, the English fighter, here March 20. Corbett was offered the bout after Jackie Fields, former welterweight champion, withdrew from the assignment because of an injured hand.

Corbett was to have boxed King Tut of Minneapolis in Chicago last night but Tut yesterday cancelled the match.

Harvey is a middleweight but said he would make 154 pounds for Corbett.

PROBES OF TUT, PETROLLE BOUT BEGUN IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., and King Tut of Minneapolis, were to appear before the New York boxing commission today in an effort to prove their fight in Madison Square Garden last Friday night was strictly on the up and up.

Everyone connected with the scrap, from the principals and Matchmaker Tom McCordle of the Garden to the waterboys, has been summoned. All will be given an opportunity to express their views of the bout which ended in a fourth round knockout by Petrolle and sent the customers into the night wild with excitement.

Ten Dons Get Numerals In Basket Sport

On the recommendation of Coach Bill Foote, 10 members of the 1931 Santa Ana junior college basketball team had been voted monograms today by the student executive board.

The Dons had one of the unluckiest seasons in college history, losing their first four conference games in the last minute of play. Heading the list of lettermen is Hal Dunham, stellar forward and captain after the withdrawal from school of Captain Orville Schuchardt. Other letter winners are Wayne Garlock, Max Appleby, Emmett Seacord, Don Johnson, Ellwood Lindley, Kiyoshi Higashi and Edgar Fry, manager, and Bill Cowley, assistant manager.

PROBES OF TUT, PETROLLE BOUT BEGUN IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., and King Tut of Minneapolis, were to appear before the New York boxing commission today in an effort to prove their fight in Madison Square Garden last Friday night was strictly on the up and up.

Everyone connected with the scrap, from the principals and Matchmaker Tom McCordle of the Garden to the waterboys, has been summoned. All will be given an opportunity to express their views of the bout which ended in a fourth round knockout by Petrolle and sent the customers into the night wild with excitement.

The long finger of suspicion is pointed at the fight for several reasons, but principally because of the sudden and last minute shifts in the betting odds. The preliminaries started Tut was being quoted at even money and six to five. By the time the two principals climbed through the ropes Petrolle had been installed an 8 to 5 favorite.

This sudden change of heart by the boys who lay it on the line was interpreted by many to mean that Petrolle, despite his 34-second knockout at the hands of the Tut less than two weeks before, was certain to win.

Sudden shifts in the betting odds are not new to New York however. On the afternoon of the night Jimmy McLarnin met Al Singer, then lightweight champion of the world, the heavier McLarnin was the choice at 5 to 2. When the bell rang for the first round Singer was a 9 to 5 favorite. Singer's sudden ascension to the favorite's post gave birth to all sorts of reports that the fight was "in the bag" for the lightweight champion. The reports died away when Singer hit the mat for good in the third round.

CLEVELAND CLUB TO TRAIN IN SOUTHLAND

SAN DIEGO, March 3.—The Cleveland Indians will train either in San Diego or Pasadena next year, Billy Evans, general manager of the Tribe, declared today after surveying the training sites offered here. Cleveland is at New Orleans this spring.

FREEMAN TO MEET THOMPSON APRIL 14

CLEVELAND, March 3.—Final approval of the Cleveland boxing commission was awaited today for the welterweight championship boxing match between Tommy Freeman, titleholder, and Young Jack Thompson, former champion, following the signing of the necessary articles.

The bout will be staged here April 14, under the auspices of the American Legion. The Cleveland boxing commission approved the date at a meeting yesterday, after which Tommy McGinty, Freeman's manager, and Ray Alvin, manager for Thompson, signed the Documents which assured the bout.

Faber is one of the very few pitchers who have turned in three victories in a single world series. He turned in this performance when he won three games for the Sox over the New York Giants in 1905.

LOOKS AND SLIDES

WANNING WANNERS

Each year the Pittsburgh Pirates take a training camp and club to spring training always takes the same train. This year Boss Jewel Ens, who did pretty well with a crippled gang of buccaners last season, is praying for the Wanners to quit waning, but already the lightning has struck.

Paul Wanner the other day reported to the hospital as is his usual custom and this time he had a badly infected leg. Bathing in Florida he stuck his foot into the mouth of a man-eating denizen of the ocean depths. Perhaps he wanted to find out if he had teeth. Or, if being bitten by a barracuda was anything like being bitten by Barney Dreyfuss.

At any rate he came off second best in the battle with the barracuda, if barracuda it was, and has been put on the shelf for repairs even before the training period gets under way.

PROSPECTS FOR DON ON BASEBALL SQUAD BRIGHT

With the brightest prospects for a winning team in the history of Santa Ana junior college, baseball players at the Don institution turned out for the first practice under the watchful eye of Coach Clyde Cook yesterday.

In previous years, Santa Ana has had trouble finding nine men in the college with enough training college checked out suits yesterday and fully six or eight more were expected today. Every man on the squad has had at least two years of high school or college experience so Coach Cook will have something to work with instead of being forced to train his recruits from the very beginning.

Four pitchers were in evidence while two more were slated for service today. Wilton Hilliard, "Bomo" Koral, Les Fulson and Burton Allen were hurlers who took their first workout while Walter Duggan and Ellwood Lindley will be the newcomers.

On this staff, Coach Cook should be able to fashion a formidable battery, especially since Melvin Best, four-year veteran of Santa Ana high school and junior college and Joe Gifford, star receiver from Huntington Beach, are both seeking the catching post.

Second base is another popular post with eight of the Dons expressing a preference for the job but Coach Cook will spread out the second sackers over the infield. Don Johnson and Stanley Johnson, sons of Ernie Johnson, manager of the Seattle Indians; Dante Sircusa from Huntington Beach, Charley Andres of Garden Grove, Gerald Scott of Tustin, Russell Sullivan of Santa Ana, Paul Wright of Santa Ana and "Bomo" Koral are the players seeking the second base duties.

Elmer ("Swede") Whisler, stellar outfielder with years of experience at Tustin and Santa Ana and on various independent teams, leads the flychasing contingent. Andres, Merle Ewell and Truscott Lindsey are the only other men who have definitely come out for outfield jobs.

Emmett Seacord of Tustin and Ellwood Lindley will both seek the first base post unless Lindley develops into a regular hurler. They both will have to divide their time between the baseball team and the track team for which Seacord is a hurdler and Lindley a high jumper. Fulson will alternate with third base and the pitching staff while Sircusa may switch from second to third.

WANNING WANNERS

Each year the Pittsburgh Pirates take a training camp and club to spring training always takes the same train. This year Boss Jewel Ens, who did pretty well with a crippled gang of buccaners last season, is praying for the Wanners to quit waning, but already the lightning has struck.

Paul Wanner the other day reported to the hospital as is his usual custom and this time he had a badly infected leg. Bathing in Florida he stuck his foot into the mouth of a man-eating denizen of the ocean depths. Perhaps he wanted to find out if he had teeth. Or, if being bitten by a barracuda was anything like being bitten by Barney Dreyfuss.

At any rate he came off second best in the battle with the barracuda, if barracuda it was, and has been put on the shelf for repairs even before the training period gets under way.

ARGUES WITH PREXY

Besides his big infection, Paul has literally put his foot into it time and again by arguing with Prexy Dreyfuss about the matter of financial reward. Mr. Dreyfuss has his own ideas of the wages of ball playing and doesn't like to be told he is wrong. Pittsburgh has sent away a lot of good men who couldn't be won over to Herr Dreyfuss' monetary policies.

Last year Brother Lloyd was the Wanner who did the waning. He didn't rally quickly enough from an operation for appendicitis to be any good to the Pirates through most of the season. For a time it was feared he might never play ball again. Toward the latter part of the season he played off and on and his strength seemed to be returning. Now that he appears to be un-Wanned again, it is Brother Paul who is worrying the management.

ENS KEEPS 'EM GOING

The Pirates finished fifth last year with a team that was seventh in club fielding and sixth in batting with a percentage of .303. Jewel Ens did as well with the Pirates last year as any "miracle man" could.

Pie Traynor was out for a time with that trick back of his. Pitcher Brame was lost to the club for 10 weeks. Heinie Meine's health went biode and he had to leave the team to rest up. It seemed that every time one of the Pirates slid to a base he came up with a compound fracture of a few dozen vertebrae.

If he can go along with any kind of luck at all this year, Ens will have his men around the top. The Pirates bear watching.

Don Garner Sets Clemente Record

SAN CLEMENTE, March 3.—Don Garner, former assistant pro at the San Clemente golf course and now pro at the Escondido Golf club is the new record holder at the Spanish Village links. Garner on a visit to San Clemente played the 18-hole, 72-par course in 70. He had three birdies on the round but came to grief on the short number three, taking a four on this hole. The former record of 73 was held by Thomas Murphree Jr.

'TRAMPS' MUST SUFFER CUT IN EXPENSE FUNDS

BY DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, March 3.—(UP)—With hope of winning the Davis cup temporarily abandoned, the United States Lawn Tennis association has turned its attention to the elimination of the "tennis bum."

"Tennis bums," athletes who are enabled to live luxuriously without working and to spend their time traveling about the country playing tennis on "expense account" money without forfeiting their amateur standing, are a product of tennis over-emphasis.

While the United States dominated Davis Cup competition the "tennis bums" escaped official attention. Tournament promoters bid against each other for star players and until the U. S. L. T. A. established a $25 per day limit for the living expenses of players during tournaments it was possible for players to name their own prices for playing.

Time Auspicious

Now that Tilden has turned professional and Johnny Doeg and Wilmer Allison have indicated they will be unavailable for European play, the United States has virtually no chance of regaining the Davis cup this year and the U. S. L. T. A. considers the time auspicious for a house cleaning.

The tennis association has announced its opposition to players receiving "unlimited free board and lodging" in exchange for participation in tournaments under its jurisdiction and has instructed the amateur rule committee to investigate the payment of living and traveling expenses to tournament competitors.

Committee Will Report

The amateur rule committee is headed by former president Jones W. Messersaun whose appointment to succeed Holcombe Ward was announced yesterday. It has been instructed to report to the executive board its recommendations as to whether expense payments should be more definitely controlled and how much expenses may be limited to a "reasonable extent."

The resolution authorizing the investigation was adopted at the annual U. S. L. T. A. meeting last month, in keeping with recommendations made by Chairman Ward, but was not made public until yesterday.

Two School Candidates File Papers

NEWPORT BEACH, March 3.—At least two candidates will be in the field at the grammar school election March 27, it was learned today, after Mrs. Grace E. Brooks, present member and clerk of the board, and Conrad H. Shook, contractor, had filed for the post. Both are residents of Balboa island.

The other two members of the board are Charles H. Way and Mrs. Florence Summers. Candidates have until March 16, 10 days before the election, to file.

Members of the board in a statement last week said they would defer action on a bond issue to enlarge the school. The thing which was said to have aroused opposition was that more than 40 of the students live outside the district.

COMPLAINTS ON OIL REFINERY AT BEACH DUE

NEWPORT BEACH, March 3.—Residents of West Newport who have been complaining of the odors emanating from the oil refinery there may lay complaints against the company under a city ordinance which prohibits the operation of any business causing excessive odors, noise or other nuisance.

This was made clear in a report made to the city council last night by City Attorney Roland Thompson, to whom had been referred several communications from residents and property owners against the alleged nuisance. The letters had been sent to the council when H. Cardozo Sloan, one of the refinery owners, had asked the council to abandon an alley for use of the refinery. That request was denied two weeks ago by the council and the ordinance matter referred to Thompson.

Miss Helen Coffin, secretary of the West Newport Improvement association, active in the matter, asked Thompson how to proceed and was told that Thompson would prepare the complaint and the city would prosecute if it were signed and the witnesses secured.

L. Smith, 438 E. 17th St., Oakland, Calif.

"As a result, my whole system was in a terribly weakened condition. I suffered from indigestion, constipation, dizziness and backaches almost continually; my blood was thin and my strength and vitality almost gone. But since taking Sargon and Sargon Pills, my whole system is in splendid condition. I never have indigestion, constipation, or any other ailment now; and I have a feeling of strength and well-being I haven't enjoyed in months. I consider the Sargon treatment the greatest medicine on earth."

Mexican Hurt In Reported Holdup

Badly cut about the head and on one arm, Jose Arrealleno, of Delhi, went to the Orange County hospital Saturday night for treatment, at the same time telling a story to the effect that he was held up and robbed by two other Mexicans, while he was attending a dance at Talbert.

The man claimed that two men fought with him and finally subdued him, taking $20 in cash from him.

One of the gashes on Arrealleno's arm was six inches long. It was reported, while the cuts about his head also were serious, physicians reported. The sheriff's office was today making an investigation of the asserted robbery.

DON'T GO TO CAPITOL FOR JOBS. ADVICE

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(UP)—In a statement issued today, the United States Civil Service commission advised the public not to come to Washington for the purpose of seeking federal employment.

The commission explained that the District of Columbia committee on employment has called its attention to a number of pathetic cases in which persons have come from considerable distances expecting to obtain government positions on the strength of having passed civil service examinations, only to become stranded and in some instances public charges.

It was pointed out that even if a person has passed a civil service examination with a high rating he has no assurance that a position will be available to him immediately. Appointments to federal positions, the commission said, are made only as the actual needs of the service require, and in accordance with the civil service rules, and the presence of an applicant in Washington cannot in any way improve or expedite any prospects of employment he may have.

The commission stated in conclusion that no one should come to Washington expecting to receive a federal position except in response to a definite order of employment from a government establishment.

City Accepts Charles Bowers Memorial Museum Gift

ORDINANCE TO BE FRAMED BY C. O. SWANNER

The Charles W. Bowers Memorial Museum became a certainty last night when the members of the city council instructed City Attorney Charles Swanner to draw up an ordinance accepting a gift estimated at approximately $100,000 from the Bowers' estate.

Offer of a trust fund created by Bowers at the First National bank in 1924, was made to the council by Charles L. Pritchard, trust officer of the bank.

Pritchard declared that the fund amounts to between $50,000 and $100,000 and informed the council members that the only restrictions were that the museum must be erected on the Bowers' property at Twentieth and Main streets and building must begin within one year from last Saturday.

According to Pritchard it will be necessary to remove the old homestead and the new building must be of fireproof construction and plans must be accepted by the First National bank.

Upon completion of the building and carrying out of the various provisions incorporated in the trust fund the city will be given a deed to the property.

Among other provisions of the trust are that the memorial shall be called the Charles W. Bowers Memorial Museum; that it shall be an historical museum and that the Orange County Memorial association shall have free use of the museum at all times for the holding of its meetings. It is also provided that the society shall be allowed permission to aid in decorating and furnishing of the new building.

'BEATITUDES' IS TOPIC OF SERMON

Basing his sermon on the Beatitudes, which were uttered by Jesus, Evangelist P. Meredith McCluer preached at the Orange Avenue Christian church last night on the subject "The Happy Side of Life."

It was the second sermon of a two weeks revival which was started in the southside church Sunday.

"Christianity is the true highway to happiness and Jesus Christ was the world's happiest man," the evangelist told his large audience. "His true followers today are not despondent individuals, but those who live joyously and constructively, embodying the things Jesus taught."

The Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Martin, leaders of the work in the Orange Avenue church, sang as a duet the song, "It Pays to Serve Jesus" which was written in the study of the Rev. Mr. Martin when he was in Redwood Falls, Minn.

The Rev. Franklin Minick, pastor of the Orange Christian church, will preach at the service tonight in the absence of the evangelist, who is required to be away this evening. The topic will be "The Prodigal Wife of a Preacher." Special music for the occasion will be furnished by the Orange church. Services are held each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

B. & P. W. CLUB HEARS ADDRESS ON FURNITURE

With "Interior Decorating" as his general subject, H. G. Myers of the Furniture and Art salon in the Santora building, yesterday talked before the members of Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club at their luncheon in Ketter's cafe, interlarding his valuable suggestions and information regarding the correct treatment of homes, with many interesting experiences of his business life.

Before coming to California, Mr. Myers had been with the Wanamaker company in New York City, and had, for three years, worked with Elsie De Wolfe, who stepped from a successful stage career into an equally successful business career. It was while the Santa Ana business man was with the Wanamaker company that he had the unique experience of selling a handsome dining-room set to a plainly dressed and unassuming woman who had been rather avoided by other members of the sales force. The others learned too late that it was the well-known financier, Hotty Green, once noted as the world's wealthiest woman, and well able to gratify any taste whatever in furniture. When she appeared in the store, Mrs. Green was carrying an old-fashioned portmanteau, and the speaker told of seeing its contents—roll after roll of money which she had just collected in rentals and was taking to her bank for deposit.

The manner in which a home must fit the personality of its owner, was described in detail, the speaker declaring that he usually sought in the wearing apparel of the woman customer, for her favorite color combination. He once secured a large contract from Mrs. Butterick of the Butterick pattern company, by recognizing that her children formed her chief interest in life, and designing a home interior that would be ideal for her growing family.

Pointing out the value of Oriental rugs, especially of the Kermansha and one or two others equally priceless, he stated that handsome patterns of domestic looms were preferable to the cheaper Orientals, both in good taste and wearing qualities. He explained that people are too often given to overlooking the value of familiar things, and as an example cited the artistic work of Santa Anans which is little known beyond their circle of immediate friends. Apropos of this he showed some beautiful tapestries done by Mrs. Paul T. Benton of South Garvey street, and hand-decorated tiles by Mrs. F. C. Pope, 409 East Walnut street, both of which were artistic and lovely.

Preceding the introduction of the speaker by Miss Grace Roberts of the March committee, were several announcements made by Mrs. Marshall Northcross, president. These included the appearance of Dr. Percy Davis as speaker for next Monday's luncheon, and two representatives of the Santa Fe company who will discuss vacation outings on March 16. Miss Martha Whitson, chairman of the finance

DR. H. A. SWARTZ WILL SPEAK AT INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS DINNER OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN

The annual international relations banquet of the Orange County chapter of the American Association of University Women will be held at 6:15 p. m. on March 12 at the Santa Ana Ebell club. The address of the evening, "Unhappy India," will be delivered by Dr. H. A. Swartz, president of the Pacific School of Religion.

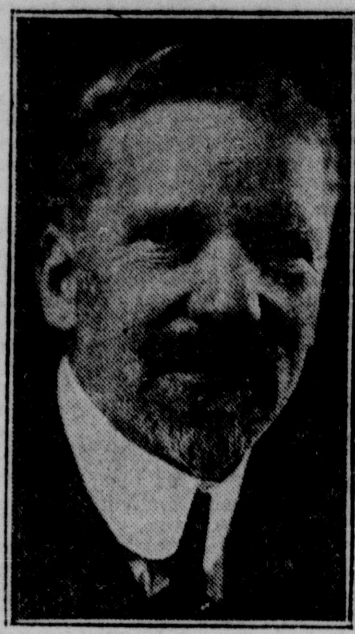

Dr. Swartz is particularly well fitted to speak on this subject. In 1920 and 1930 he visited Asia at some length, particularly Japan, Korea, China, the Philippines, the Federated Malay States, Burma, India, Palestine, and Turkey. The Pacific School of Religion always has a considerable number of Oriental students, and consequently, when Dr. Swartz was traveling in Asia, he obtained from the many alumni he encountered most interesting and varied information from those available for most travelers.

These permitted him to obtain close personal contacts with all social classes. In India, in particular, these opportunities were interesting because he was enabled to enter into the village life, the educational interests, and the social program of people of that great peninsula from one end to the other. It is the result of this study, plus considerable reading, and many personal contacts made at other times and places with the people of India, which he says will constitute the basis of his address. He is particularly interested in the social aspect of the problem of India because he has had specialized training in social matters. At the present time he is president of the Berkeley Council of Social Agencies, and the president of the California Conference of Social Work.

Reservations for the dinner should be made as soon as possible with Mrs. Charles Brisco. Members are privileged to invite as many guests as they wish, including men.

EDUCATOR

Swartz, president of the Pacific School of Religion, will give an address at the annual international relations banquet of the Orange county chapter of the American Association of University Women, to be held at 6:15 p. m. on March 12, in the Ebell clubhouse here. His topic will be "Unhappy India."

DENIES LABOR IMPORTED FOR BEET FIELDS

Publication of recent reports concerning imported labor in the beet fields in the western part of the county, which is a condition that leaders among the Mexican people in the county and merchants in Mexican colonies said existed, today brought a denial from G. J. Strodtfoth, manager of the Los Alamitos and Holly Sugar companies that his companies were parties to this practice.

"Our companies are employing all local men," he asserted. "We are co-operating heartily with the county welfare department and are providing jobs for all the men they are able to recommend to us. We realize that there is an unusual condition existing and would not think of bringing in outside men under the circumstances. We have always favored local labor."

Strodtfoth said he was not familiar with procedure of other sugar companies so he was not in a position to state whether or not reports that labor was being brought in from outside were true except as his own companies were concerned.

"We have always shown preference to married men in employing laborers," he declared. "This year there is only a group of some 15 men in the camp instead of the usual number of 150. This camp is run for the single men in our employ in the fields. We want the people of Orange county to know that we are for local labor and are doing all we can to help

CITY COUNCIL OPENS SUBWAY BIDS MONDAY

Fifteen bids, accompanied by bond, for work on the proposed Fourth street underpass, were opened by the city council last night, but no action taken relative to letting of contract.

The bids were opened despite the fact that action was taken by the council last Monday looking toward abandoning of carrying out construction. Under a recent restraining order issued by the superior court of Orange county the city cannot go ahead with the proposed subway. However, report was made last night that efforts were being made to effect a compromise with the objecting property holders on East Fourth street.

Mayor Frank Purinton announced that bids would be opened but no contract would be let until present legal entanglements had been cleared away.

Oberg Brothers, of Los Angeles, submitted the low bid, offering to do the work for $107,900. This figure was practically $60,000 lower than the highest bid, that of the Maceo Construction company, of Clearwater, at $167,350.

Following the reading of the bids they were referred to the city engineer for checking. The city engineer will report back to the council at the meeting two weeks hence.

Merry House-Warming Planned By Guests As Surprise

Having recently moved from the Ryan apartments to her own home at 340 East Third street, Tustin, Mrs. Rosa Bauer was happily surprised late last week when a bevy of friends arrived unexpectedly, with everything in readiness to hold a house-warming in her home. It was a most enjoyable evening, with the early hours devoted to bridge in which prizes were awarded Mrs. Grace Moraville and Mrs. Minnie Tucker for high and low scores, and to Joseph Burckheimer and Will Summers, scoring high and low among the men. Later Mrs. Moraville took her place at the piano, and with Harry Hanson playing the harmonica, their lively music was an invitation to dancing in which everyone took part.

The guests had planned for refreshments as well, serving salad, sandwiches, coffee and delicious cake.

Planning this pleasant affair as a courtesy to Mrs. Bauer were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Will Summers, Mr. and Mrs. James Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright and children, Wallace and Corinne, Mrs. Grace Moraville, Mrs. Minnie Tucker, Mrs. Charles Arnold, Mrs. Nellie Sterling, Mrs. Van Arsdale, Messrs. Frank Sterling, Joseph Burckheimer, Harry Hanson and Walter Horton.

Evening of Bridge Given to Honor House Guest

In complimenting her houseguest, Mrs. Vina Jones of Wisconsin, Mrs. L. B. Stewart presided at a delightful affair last evening when she entertained in her home at 1201 North Van Ness avenue. The fragrance of daffodils and sweet peas which were arranged in bouquets throughout the room, contributed a springtime atmosphere to the evening.

A session of bridge was enjoyed, and with its conclusion Mrs. V. E. Wentworth was awarded a desirable gift for scoring high while Mrs. N. E. Watson was consoled, Mrs. Jones received a guest prize. A social hour followed, during which time the hostess served a dainty refreshment course.

Those present, other than the honoree, Mrs. Jones, and the hostess, Mrs. Stewart, were Mrs. Chris Anby, Miss Alice Hayden, Miss Ruth Cartmell, Miss S. A. Moore, Mrs. N. E. Watson, Mrs. O. Cartmell, Mrs. C. W. Schmiedeberg, Miss Lucy Carter, Mrs. William Iverson, Mrs. J. F. Richards and Mrs. V. E. Wentworth.

SANTA ANA PIONEER WOMAN IS HONORED ON NATAL DAY

Today is a very happy one in the annals of the well-known Whitson family of this community, for the date marks the eightieth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Whitson, 809 1/2 North Broadway, one of the splendid pioneer women of Orange county, and mother of the family of five sons and one daughter who were rejoicing in the anniversary. This evening Dr. and Mrs. LeRoy L. Whitson of 909 Spurgeon street, will entertain Mrs. Whitson and Miss Martha Whitson at dinner in recognition of the anniversary, which had its first celebration on Sunday when Miss Whitson was hostess to her mother and brothers and sisters-in-law at a beautifully appointed birthday dinner.

It was an unusually happy occasion with Mrs. Whitson at the head of the table around which were seated the children she had brought to successful manhood and womanhood. And not the least happy feature was the reminiscing of early days in Santa Ana's history when she and her husband, the late Robert C. Whitson, came to this new land from their former home in Tipton, Cedar county, Iowa.

Village Days
At that time Santa Ana was only a village, and reaching here on February 27, 1882, the young couple established their home on ten acres of land which they purchased and which lay just east of what is now Grand avenue and Washington avenue. There they built their home, planted the acreage to grapes and apricots, and gave their attention to rearing their family and developing the new community. At that time it was possible to stand in the front door of their home, and on clear days, gaze southward to the ocean, for there were no trees nor buildings to obstruct the view across the clean sweep of coastal plain.

Mr. Whitson became recognized as one of the best builders in the country and put up many business blocks including the Henry Neil block, the Congdon building, the opera house and many others. It was said that when the town was growing so rapidly there were so many men in his employ that they maintained a record of a house a week.

Growth of City
Mr. Whitson served as councilman and was especially active in having the city own its own waterworks. It was during his office that the first $50,000 bonded indebtedness was voted, the water plant built, and a well drilled which flowed sufficient water to supply the city. At that time there were many wells in the southern and western districts (now within city limits) which supplied a seemingly exhaustless flow of water.

During the winter of 1884 when the railroad was washed away by the floods of that year, Santa Ana grew very short of provisions and people would consume an entire day in the trip to Newport (near the point on the bay now occupied by the old Country club-house) to secure a sack of flour shipped by boat from San Pedro.

Gala Days
Mrs. Whitson also recalled two days that stood out as gala occasions in those early years. One was in 1889 when Orange county was formed from the southern end of Los Angeles county, and the other was when the Santa Fe railroad came from the north and was built on to San Diego.

The death of Mr. Whitson came November 4, 1901, at the age of 63 years, and occurred in their home at the corner of Fifth and Minter streets.

Members of his family surviving him, were assembled on Sunday to pay homage to their mother who had shared all his activities, the hardships of pioneer life, and the romance of watching and assisting in the growth of a new community. They were the hostess, Miss Martha Whitson, Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Whitson of Spurgeon street; Mr. and Mrs. W. Verne Whitson of 517 South Ross street; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whitson of San Bernardino; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitson of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Whitson and little daughter Patricia, of Balboa.

Friends assembled at an early hour, and several games of bridge were enjoyed. With their conclusion awards for holding high scores were presented to Miss Marjorie Rawlings and M. B. Wellington.

The refreshment hour was delightful and during this time the hostess served a tempting two-course supper. The wealth of flower which adorned the home added to the pleasure of the evening.

Those present, other than Miss Cummings, were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Wellington, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Hellis, Miss Gertrude Hellis, Miss Marjorie Rawlings, Edward Hall, Clarence Rawlings, Alan Revell, Edward Field, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. ## The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Zeetful Salad Dinners

This time of business depression has taught home makers a lot of things. It has taught them that it isn't vitally necessary to serve each night of the week, meat, potatoes, vegetables, et al. They have found that the family is delighted to be given a big bowl of crisp salad, some kind of hot bread, preferably popovers, jam, cheese and crackers for dessert, and something hot to drink.

Dishes for such a meal, cut to a mere thought, can be stacked up and left to do with the breakfast dishes. I can just hear the breath of relief from some of the women who hate to wash dishes (I feel that way, too).

What are the advantages to be gained from such a meal? Well, to start, the one who gets it can do it in 30 minutes; those who eat it, do it with zest and an after feeling of well being, not a small part of which is the lessening of the well-known waist line; and what is of tremendous importance, the food budget is not even dented.

It is entirely possible to feed a family of four at a cost of from eight to ten dollars a week, and do it well, if, you like your job, are willing to let your imagination work a bit overtime, and discipline your pride by going to market and carrying home your own fresh vegetables, etc., once or twice a week. Prudence has long been a virtue, now it is the fashion.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Nut Bread

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup sweet milk
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup chopped nuts
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 scant teaspoon salt
That cup of chopped nuts may make you read this recipe and pass it by with the remark that a cup of nuts makes such a loaf too expensive. So it might be if high priced nuts are used, but why not use peanuts in this loaf?

Break the egg into the mixing bowl and beat, add the sugar, mix well, then the milk. Sift the baking powder and salt with the flour twice, add in small amounts till the flour is all in, then stir in the nuts. Bake in a small deep bread tin but allow the loaf to stand in the warm kitchen 15 minutes before it goes into the oven. Baking time, 35 minutes. Eating time—Immediately, or toasted for breakfast.

This nut bread has approximately 2785 calories in its make-up. Flour, nuts and sugar are the sources supplying energy units in this bread.

Good meals for 12 1-2 cents per person are quite possible if you have a menu outline for a full week to follow in buying supplies. You may have such an outline by sending me a stamped, self-addressed envelope this week, asking for the leaflet called, 12 1-2 Cent Meals. There is no other charge.

Chicken Spaghetti will be discussed in tomorrow's lesson.

THAT'S A LONG TIME

LIVERPOOL.—Jack Frost, signalman in the Liverpool street section, has probably put in more time in a small space than any other man in England. He recently retired at 65, after having put in 40 years' service in a little signalman's box. His service included a perfect record, as he never had a day off for sickness.

Fraternal Brotherhood

Junior and adult lodges of the Fraternal Brotherhood held a double meeting recently, with the young people convening first. Miss Evelyn Furtach presided at the junior meeting, and all other officers were present. Plans were made for a membership campaign, and each member bringing in a new pledge will be rewarded with a useful gift. The five new members who were reported by P. A. Trickey, local organizer, were Grace A. Nuna, Helen R. Clarke, Evelyn J. Barnes, Harry A. Flockton and George H. Cone. The next meeting will be held March 13.

Harry Brookbank presided at the meeting held by the adult lodge. The big surprise of the evening came when the Red drill team from Los Angeles, accompanied by State Representative J. J. May, Messrs. Collins, Milmine and Sergeant Rose, all of Los Angeles, arrived. It was explained that the visitors wanted to see members of the local drill team in action.

Three new members were initiated, and included Gertrude Adams, D. A. Merry and Russell Goulden. Mr. May gave an interesting talk, telling of the values of various kinds of insurance. ### MRS. CARTER RETURNS FROM NEW YORK WITH WAY TO DARKEN HAIR

Gray Disappears Overnight

"What shall I do, my hair is getting gray?" I recommend only one preparation and I've tried them all. It's an improved formula made from that wonderful old recipe of sage tea and sulphur. It is easy to use. Gray disappears overnight. And after two or three applications hair is restored to the exact shade you want, so evenly, so naturally, nobody'll ever know. Just pay your druggist 75c for a large bottle of Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur and follow the simple directions.—Adv.

Music Recital

A brilliant recital was held Sunday in Legion hall where G. F. Andrist presented several of his violin pupils. A large audience was present to hear the young people offer their selections in a truly professional manner. One number, "Espanita," composed by Prof. Andrist, himself, was especially enjoyable.

Raymond McCall played "Allegro" in a finished manner; Paul Penrod played "Souvenir"; William Fitchman gave "Blue Bells of Scotland" with variations, and Emma Fowler played "Whispering Love." The Leichtfuss brothers played a duet from "The Pink Lady" and Frank Odenbelt of Long Beach lent variety to the program with two lovely songs.

Accompanists for the occasion were Madam Andrist, Miss V. Harper and Miss Marie Fitchman. Miss Corinne Lecrivain favored with a piano solo, "The Dance of Damon." Edgar Toolles gave two baritone solos and accompanied during the evening on the viola.

FOX BROADWAY SHOWS JUNGLE FILM TOMORROW

Great Apes never sleep in the same bed twice, according to Ernest B. Schoedsack, adventurer-cameraman who made "Rango" in the wild jungles of Sumatra for Paramount.

Schoedsack observed that the orangutans make a comfortable bed in a different tree each night by breaking down the branches and scattering leaves over the half-woven network for comfort. One of the scenes in "Rango," which appears at Fox Broadway theater Wednesday, shows Tui, the heroic old ape-father, in the act of making up his bed for the night.

The management has arranged a special matinee for children on Wednesday through the co-operation of J. A. Cranston, of the city schools.

The matinee will start at the regular hour, 2:15 p. m., but short comedies will be run until 3:15 p. m., when Rango will be shown for the first time.

The school children will be admitted for 10 cents at all ages up to and including junior college age. After the showing of the feature the comedies will be repeated for the youngsters, that arrived at 3:15 p. m.

Fire will not keep a hungry tiger from attacking a man, according to Ernest B. Schoedsack, the adventurous cameraman who recently finished the dangerous work of making "Rango."

Schoedsack ventured among the wild animals of Sumatra for more than a year to secure this amazing picture of the wild animals of that part of the world. His studies of the denizens of the jungle are said to be startlingly human. He found, however, the tiger to be the most treacherous . . . and to be the only wild denizen that will attack through fire.

BANCROFT FILM TO END RUN TONIGHT

The rolling gait of a sailor, affected by George Bancroft in "Derelict," his starring picture which is closing tonight at Walker's State was come by naturally, and is not a trick of the actor's trade.

The "Derelict" company was several weeks at sea during the filming of the production, aboard a fleet of nine vessels, ranging from freighters to small banana boats. It is the first large-scale sea story to have been filmed by any Hollywood producer since the introduction of the modern sound picture. All microphonic recording for the production was done on board ship by a special-built sound laboratory which was an integral part of one of the vessels.

THE TINYMITES

STORY & ILLUSTRATIONS BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

Around Johannesburg they rode. The Times made a happy land and kindly Mister Travel Man enjoyed their shouts of glee. Said he, "Say, Clowney, sing a song and let your voice ring out real strong. Then all the rest can join right in, but please don't call on me."

"All right," cried Clowney. "Here I go. I'll hit the high notes and the low." And then he started singing, as their truck splashed in a rut: "Oh, how we skid and how we thump each time our old truck hits a bump. And how the engine hums along with merry putt, putt, putt."

The others joined right in. You bet. And 'twas a very nice quartet. They made up all the crazy words just as they went along. They sang until they'd had enough. Each Tinymite began to puff. "That's great," exclaimed the Travel Man. "I liked your little song."

The truck went rolling o'er the ground and Scouty asked, "Where are we bound?" "To Kimberley, a town nearby," the Travel Man replied. "The roads are really rather rough, but we will be there soon enough. And when you see the place you will be glad you've had this ride."

"We'll visit at a diamond mine. I'm sure that you will think that fine." And, sure enough, they reached the mine. 'Twas wonderful as could be. A man said they could look around and, my, what startling things they found. Said Scouty, "We are seeing things I never hoped to see."

They watched some native workers who were sifting gravel through and through to try and locate diamonds they had taken from the earth. A pile of gems were shown the crowd. To touch them they were not allowed. While eyeing them, wee Clowney cried, "Gee! Think how much they're worth."

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

STEM to TIDE—Surely you ought to be able to STEM the TIDE and conquer this long par six hole.

THINK OF IT

Fifty-three thousand for 10 acres of valencias, a lot of money you say, but here is where the story changes, there is an estimated crop of 6000 boxes on the trees and the trees are only 12 years old. Think that over—you get the crop. See how quickly the price per acre has gone down and the value has gone up? And without going into detail it's our opinion you've never looked on a finer young grove in many a day. If ever, it's what you are looking for if you want the best and why not have the best when the ultimate cost will be cheaper than the poorest? No. 5016.

NOW IS THE TIME TO MAKE A SOUND INVESTMENT IN ENCINITAS AVOCADO LAND

In the past 55 years there have been 7 National depressions after which we have every time quickly gone into a period of unexampled prosperity.

As usual, during a depression, the price level of real estate has swung too low. The upward turn has been made and prices and terms will never be as low again.

NOW, IF EVER, IS THE TIME TO BUY!

Southern California possesses today the same attractions that added 117% to its population during the past 10 years and should repeat it.

It is wisdom to buy when prices are at the bottom and sell at the peak.

Encinitas grows heavy,

Holy Hours

(Read Luke 9:28-36. Text, Luke 9:32.)
And when they were awake, they saw His Glory.

Mountain tops are never crowded. There is nothing to do there but look. Our holy hours are found high up, away from the throng, isolated from our common tasks. Then the mind is free to become receptive. There is nothing to do but look. In our busy life we need these retreats, in the company of a few kindred spirits, in order that we may become aware of our higher relationships. Only Luke gives us the incident of the disciples' sleeping. And what a place for their awakening! Then they saw what they had never seen before. If we were truly awake, might we not also see what we have been missing? If we would climb to where mere things do not obstruct the view, we too might catch glimpses of glory, never seen in the thick of life's affairs.

PRAYER: Our Father, wilt thou guide us to the places where we may see life transfigured? Comfort us, we pray thee, with renewed assurance that the great spirits of the past are of our company. Amen.

PROGRAMS ON THE AIR

The National Broadcasting company took in $22,000,000, an increase of 50 per cent over 1929, in advertising during 1930. The company had 263 clients. In reading that report we refer to the article contributed to the January Atlantic of Professor William Orton of Smith College on the radio proposition, in which he advocates the British way of radio control. Instead of subsisting on a few large advertisers, the radio in Britain is controlled by the government, which levies a tax of $2 on every radio owner per year, with the result that every class of the public is benefited.

"In England," he says, "I could obtain at least one full program of an orchestra every night, including whole evenings of Bach, Beethoven, Wagner, and a modern work. I could listen to Eugene O'Neill's 'Hail' to a first-class debate on the international language question, to various lectures, including Dean Mozely on Christian Theology and Mr. Francis Birrell on the movies."

On the whole the National Broadcasting Company is to be commended for the many excellent programs its puts on, despite the salesmanship talks to which the listeners-in-must listen. Those talks are necessary as radio programs are now handled in this country. Without the radio as at present conducted, the amusement and the instruction of the American people would be greatly lessened. We are interested in radio extension. The radio has become one of the valuable acquisitions of our modern era.

The American system of having the advertisers pay for the programs, with the public of course indirectly paying, conceding that it may be highly progressive and efficient on some points, has an overwhelming tendency to limit the choice of programs. Radio operation costs money. Advertisers gravitate to the largest station where there is a nationwide audience.

Providing he can pay the price, the advertiser wants to advertise on these large stations. By the process of concentrating on one or two stations the choice of programs is limited to what these one or two stations believe the majority of the public wants in the way of programs. Those who may desire more classical music, and less Amos and Andy (it is sacrilegious even to suggest it) are not catered to at all and a fertile field for advertisers is neglected.

It operates of course to increase the problem of the smaller stations, which often is more responsive to the public pulse because of being closer to it than is the larger organization, because its cost of operation is great in proportion to its income. It is an angle of the situation which does not greatly interest the public but which is brought out lest the erroneous thought become permanent that smaller stations have an income, in proportion to size, with the National Broadcasting Company. Such is not at all the case.

Some day advertisers are going to fully realize the advantages of a small station locally controlled which is sufficiently flexible and close to the people to reflect the taste of the community and then the variety of programs will be greatly extended.

The radio as an advertising medium for a community is not fully appreciated. The city that becomes known is the city that has something which stands out from others because of something unique and distinctive about it. In Europe it is sometimes a Cathedral. According to the morning paper ten thousand people have visited the French city of Camembert because Camembert cheese originated there. Among American cities there seems to be almost the same hesitancy of being different from another city which keeps the individual from being interesting. He is fearful of being different. The stamp of distinction is lacking from most cities in the United States. Here and there is a city struggling to become noted for its music—for example Cincinnati and Rochester. Other cities have really beautiful parks. There is opportunity for other cities to acquire character by means of the radio and some are beginning to realize it. It is an opportunity because, in the first place, not every city has access to a radio and in the second place the radio is still comparatively in its infancy. The community of Tustin is becoming known in just that way far beyond its own boundaries. The possibilities of thus advertising a community and attracting the kind of people who like the kind of community which residents therein want inspires the imagination. Human interests are wide. The way in which to acquire distinction, of course, is to do something interesting but different from what other communities are doing.

"THE AMERICAN WAY"

It is becoming more and more common to dub any method which some folk want to become the vogue as "The American Way." It has a catchy sound. We hear of the "American Plan" employer—American because he disapproves of Labor Unions. We have heard much recently of the "American Way" to relieve unemployment, and the sufferers from the drought. There is a tendency on the part of some to maneuver those who may advocate some other method of dealing with such problems as un-American because they call their method the "American Way."

There is no patent on the word "American," and anybody may use it who wills. But we wonder if it is not an unwarranted use of the word "American" if it is so used as to class those who disagree with a particular use with those who are not loyal to our traditions or ways. We have a law that forbids the private exploitation of the flag. Perhaps it may be necessary some day to sanctify the word "American" by legislation, that those who believe that government may discharge functions in very different ways may not be charged with being un-American.

There was a time when a man who was progressive in religion, but who was devoted to the essence of religion, was called an "infidel." There was a time when the word "socialist" applied to a man put him outside the pale of respectability. To say "bolshivism" concerning anything, though there may be nothing communistic about it at all, is the present mode of relegating some perfectly constitutional measure to perdition and disgrace. And now we are hearing the word "American" used to put a quietus to a perfectly lawful and constitutional undertaking which may not be in accord with the so-called "American Way."

The time has come to call a halt to this sort of thing. Our people are all loyal, but with very few exceptions. No man or group of men should for a moment be suspected of disloyalty to our tradition because they fail to agree with a self-constituted group who, without reason, arrogate to themselves the term beloved by all, "American."

At least, the Tully-Gilbert, Kanton-Keys alterations have given certain Hollywood stars opportunity to view brighter constellations.

SHORTEST PLAY

The shortest play ever produced is "The Exile," states a news despatch from Paris. There are two characters, an exile and a mountaineer. When the curtain rises the mountaineer is sitting before the fire in his mountain cabin, near the frontier. He opens the door following a knock and the exile enters. Then follows the eighteen words which comprise the dialogue of the play. The exile says: Whoever you are, have pity on a hunted man. There is a price on my head. The mountaineer asks: How much? The exile walks off and the curtain falls.

The author of that play will have to look to his author's rights for it can easily be reproduced as a parlor trick—but without too much success for it is extremely bitter.

A Sound Library For Radio

The theater had accustomed us to "sound effects" long before movies and radio. The noise of a roaring wind, a galloping horse or a babbling brook is simulated offstage by mechanical contrivances. But in the case of radio drama, where the entire effect must be produced with sound, more attention is given to these matters. Station WGY, for example, has a complete sound library of films to provide a proper aural background for its performers.

If the scene is laid on a busy street corner, reproduction of the actual noise on some busy street is used. If the radio hero takes to his airplane, a sound film of the motor's hum indicates the take-off—and it may be a single motor or a triple motor, as the story requires. All sorts of water noises, from lapping waves to roaring breakers, can be roiled off. The roars of locomotives, lions and cataracts are all on record.

For musical programs the plan is to provide appropriate applause, because some people find their liking for a song or a sonata stimulated by friendly cheers. Canned hand-clapping imported into the theater might reduce the traditional claque to a one-man organization—a film operator.

Even though the radio audience is in on the secret of the sound library's functioning, there is little likelihood that it will object. A shepherd lad piping on a flute in a stage play, even though the melody is produced by a clarinetist backstage, is quite as satisfactory as if he were himself a conservatory graduate.

Great Singer Was Boon to Mankind

A Pasadena Star-News
A great voice is still. A brilliant star of the operatic stage has sunk to rise no more in this world. Dame Nellie Melba is dead in her home city—Melbourne, Australia. She was born in Australia. She loved it as her home land. In her operatic career she went back two generations and her name was interlarded with some of the greatest composers of modern times—Verdi, Puccini, Gounod, Mascagni, Leoncavallo, Saint Saens, Thomas and Massenet. She was associated, as a world famous soprano, with the late Enrico Caruso—in truth it was she who, in 1902, persuaded the London Opera House to give Caruso a trial.

Madame Melba made her first American tour in 1893, visiting the greater number of the large cities. She scored a great success in this country in her memorable tour of 1904-5 when she traveled 25,000 miles in 120 days, appearing in forty-five cities. Many Californians will remember her third tour, in 1913-14, in which she came from New York to California and was heard in Los Angeles and other cities of this state.

The world owes a great debt to a singer like Mme. Melba. There was inspiration in her wonderfully melodious voice. She could take the homeliest airs and clothe them in such sweet, fetching tones as to charm and enthrall listeners. This is a species of riches—this God-given talent of music—which is too little appreciated. The greatest musicians are great benefactors of the human race.

FAIR WARNING

Science announces new and more certain methods of detecting germs.

Be careful, Mr. Microbe, when
You light upon my hair,
The crafty scientific men
May track you to your lair,
And when they see your little game
Their shoulders they will shrug,
And as they nab you they'll exclaim,
"Aha! Thou art the bug!"

When you pursue your secret ways,
The while I wake or sleep,
Dark lanterns flash actinic rays
Wherever you may creep,
And though you lurk within my brain
They'll know just what you're at,
Your every step will be made plain
As in a photostat.

You once were free to wander through
My arteries in gangs
And in my bones to delve and hew
And cause me tortured pangs.
But now, if with the gripe or gout
My helpless nerves are racked,
The scientist will find you out
And catch you in the act.

Ah, microscope racketeers,
For long you had your way,
For many happy prosperous years
You fattened on your prey,
But now the joyful days are past,
You've fallen in the trap
That's set to catch you, and at last
You're going to take your rap."

NO DISSENT
Now Mr. Einstein intimates that he is not sure about his own theory. This seems to make it unanimous.

BITTER LESSON
By this time Congress has learned better than to try to relieve anybody.

Is Underproduction the Real Trouble?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

"Overproduction," we read every day, "is the cause of the present business depression."

What does this mean? Certainly it does not mean that the world has produced more wealth than the world WANTS. Even the production of foodstuffs falls far short of that.

What, then, do men mean by overproduction? Some mean that the world, in recent years, increased its output of raw materials at too rapid a rate. The result, they say, was unbalanced production: The world could not use the suddenly increased supply of basic goods.

But there is no evidence of a sudden increase. Carl Snyder, of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, has proved that point.

The pre-war rate of increase for all commodities was about 3 per cent a year. The rate from 1920 to 1928 was almost exactly the same. It may have varied one-quarter of one per cent. That does not seem excessive. In any event, it does not explain why business, the world over, took a nose-dive in 1929-30, instead of earlier.

Was it because the output of some groups of commodities increased too fast in relation to other groups? Apparently not. The facts do not support this theory. From 1920 to 1928, the rate of growth for leading crops was 3 per cent; for foodstuffs and tobacco, 2 1/2 per cent; for minerals and metals, 4 per cent; and for all other raw materials, 4 per cent. There is no evidence here of unbalanced production.

A number of INDIVIDUAL commodities, it is true, got out of line, especially where Government "price-fixing" brought confusion. But there was no GENERAL overproduction.

Only one kind of overproduction goes far toward explaining the present depression: namely, the production of goods in excess of the buying power of those who want the goods.

We shall not make much progress until we stop calling the present trouble over-production of goods, and call it under-production of bank credit.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

FEDERATION OR FEUDALISM

Throughout American life to-day two principles of organization for distribution are in face-to-face competition.

These two principles are:
(1) The chain principle.
(2) The co-operative principle.
In their basic methods, these two principles are the same principle.

In their philosophy of control, they are poles apart.

The adoption of either means the death of the old anarchic individualism that marked the older America.

Whether we like it or not, we are passing through a phase of economic evolution in which the man who persists in playing a lone hand is destined to have a harder and harder time to make a go of it.

Nowhere is this contention truer than in the field of agriculture.

Nowhere is this conflict of graver import than to American farmers.

I hope the day will never come when American farms will surrender to chain systems of farms owned and operated from great centers.

But I hope the day will speedily come when American farmers will unanimously embrace the principle of co-operative organization, and by agricultural federation forever prevent the rise of an agricultural feudalism in America.

It is a plain choice between these two alternatives—between federation and feudalism—that confronts the farms of America.

It is the duty of agricultural leadership to put these alternatives so clearly that none can dodge them.

It will remain for the American farmer to make his choice.

If he chooses to turn his back upon a sweeping nation-wide organization of the agricultural forces of America into wisely planned and well-run co-operatives, nothing under heaven can prevent his going to the wall.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

DOGS

Somehow dogs and children seem to thrive well together. Certainly there is no kinder influence bent upon a child than the affectionate loyal service a dog renders his child master. He will guard the child from harm. He will follow him with affection and faith that is beyond that of human quality.

The helplessness and dependence of the dog appeals to his young master or mistress. He cannot help himself to food. They must see that it is prepared properly and served him regularly. Any neglect causes their dog to suffer and no real child is willing to have that happen. They will wash and refill his bowl every time he empties it of water. They know what it is to be thirsty and they will not allow their pet to go without his good drink. Thoughtfulness like that, a responsibility like that, ripens a child and tenders him to his great good.

There is no better playmate than a dog. It is fine to see a child throw his ball to his dog, wait for him to return it and throw it for him once more. The two are so careless, so unhampered by any of life's trials that one's own heaviness is lightened to watch them. The very selfishness of the dog in his devotion has its influence on the child. No lesson however direct reaches the heart of a child as does that of this devoted unselfish friend. In direct teaching of fine qualities is always more effectual than the indirect word. Many a child has had his first comprehension of good manners from his own dog.

Many a word has been spoken in his ear, many a fine precept laid upon him, but the gentle effacement, the long suffering patience and unstinted loyalty of his dog had to make clear their meaning. Dogs bite and that makes many people afraid of them as companions for children. But some children bite. Some children are bad companions for others. We must select the dog for his good qualities as we would select any other companion for the children. Not that he must be an expensive thoroughbred animal. Not at all. He must be a gentleman. His pedigree does not matter but his character matters greatly. Find a good dog and make him a member of the family.

Treat him with consideration and great kindness. Kindness and consistent treatment will develop the intelligence of your dog so that he can actually talk to you. Don't believe that a dog cannot think. Don't believe that he does not remember. I know that he loves and cherishes those to whom he is attached and that he knows joy and sorrow and hope and despair. If you would teach a child patience, get him a dog. If you would teach him love and service and loyalty to a friend, buy him a dog. If you would have him tolerant and kind and faithful to his trust, buy him a dog.

Mine is a wire-haired terrier named Pat and I think he's the best dog in the world. And he likes me.

FEAST OF DOLLS

On the third day of the third month, which in our calendar may correspond with the middle or last day of April, the festival of dolls is celebrated in Japan. The festival is specially dedicated to girls.

As the sakura trees, which are somewhat similar to our peach trees, burst into bloom at this period, Europeans have named this the festival of peach flowers.

On this day Japanese girls and women dress themselves in holiday attire. The mothers adorn the chamber of state with blossoming sakura boughs and arrange an exhibition of all the dolls which their daughters have received. The children prepare a banquet for them which is eaten by the grown folks in the evening after the dolls are supposed to have had their fill.

The dolls displayed at this festival are used only on formal occasions and are not regarded as toys. Japanese boys have their doll festival, too, but their dolls consist of toy images of warriors.
